

A Legal Guide to Aboriginal Drinking Water

A Prairie Province Perspective

LINDA F. DUNCAN
MARIE ANN BOWDEN

LINDA DUNCAN

November 20, 2009

WHEN:

Friday, November 20, 2009
10:00 a.m.

WHERE:

Rm 2-06 Pembina Hall,
University of Alberta

WHO:

All are welcome

The Faculty of Native Studies at the University of Alberta will be hosting the launch of MP Linda Duncan's new book, A Legal Guide to Aboriginal Drinking Water: A Prairie Province Perspective.

The purpose of this guide is to support aboriginal community participation in their pursuit of safe drinking water laws. It provides information on:

- The need for a new law
- An overview of aboriginal water title and rights

- Outline of federal, provincial and aboriginal government powers, responsibilities and laws
- The actual practice of regulating drinking water supply to Prairie aboriginal communities
- Critique of Federal and provincial proposals to regulate aboriginal safe drinking water
- Relevant contacts

faculty of
NATIVE STUDIES