To the President's Special Committee on Convocation:

We, the undersigned, believe that the University of Alberta, as a public institution and funded by tax-payers' dollars, should respect the separation of church and state;

We believe that the University should uphold a commitment to respecting the diversity of its students and provide a convocation ceremony free from discrimination and exclusion;

We believe that the Chancellor's convocation charge for graduates to carry out the privileges of their degrees "to the glory of God" violates both of these principles;

We demand that the University of Alberta remove the above religious reference from its convocation ceremony.
