

AFNS Outstanding Graduate Student Research Awards

Value:

- One award of $250 plus certificate to the top MSc student at Fall and Spring Convocations.
- One award of $250 plus certificate to the top PhD student at Fall and Spring Convocations.

Eligibility: Awarded to the top MSc and PhD student at each convocation – Fall and Spring.

The PhD student nominated for the Governor General's Gold Medal Award at the Fall and Spring convocations will be the PhD recipient for the Outstanding Graduate Student Research Award. The nomination will be based on the report by the External Examiner and Letter of Support from the supervisor.

The top MSc student will be determined by the Graduate Program Committee. MSc students will be asked to submit a CV that includes the following:

- Lifetime Productivity - list of publications (published, accepted or "in press"; not "submitted"); Conferences – presented (separate poster and oral);
- Evidence of research impact - list articles related to media interest, non-peer reviewed publications; List of awards (include only competitive awards from post-secondary scholarly institutions and conference awards).
- Letter of Support from supervisor with a general appraisal of the nominee.

Application: No application is required. Eligible students will be automatically considered.
