Tips to choose the right category

• We encourage you to submit to more than one category, if it makes sense for the nomination you are writing. The categories are all unique and celebrate different types of achievements.

• Review the selection criteria to see which category/ies best reflect(s) your nominee’s achievements.

• Ensure that your nomination speaks directly to your chosen category/ies description and selection criteria.
The Nomination Package

Three (3) letters of support are required for a nomination. Ideal supporters are people who can personally comment on the specific achievements, contributions and the impact of the actions of the person nominated.

Worried about how to ask for a letter of support? We have a Sample Request for Letter of Support available online.
Letters of support

You'll need to ask three people to write letters of support for your nomination. Ideal supporters are people who can personally comment on the specific achievements, contributions and the impact of the actions of the person nominated. Collect the letters from your supporters and upload them as part of your nomination. There is a section at the end of the online form to upload files (PDF, Word). You will also need to collect signed FOIP agreements from each supporter and upload with the letters.

- Instructions
- Download the FOIP agreement for your supporters to sign. This document also includes instructions on what to include in their letter.

Are there guidelines for writing a good support letter?

Letters of support are intended to support and add broader detail to the information provided in the nomination form.

When drafting your letter of support, please consider the following:

• Specific examples of your nominee’s achievements help illustrate your points to the nomination reviewers.

• Target your writing toward a general audience to ensure it is understood by nomination reviewers from a variety of backgrounds.

• Letters of support must be written specifically for the Alumni Awards program. Letters written for other awards, honours or scholarships are not accepted.
Are there guidelines for writing a good support letter?

Your letter should address:

• Your relationship to the nominee: how long you have known them and in what capacity (i.e., professional/personal).
• Why you think the nominee should be honoured with an Alumni Award.
• The impact the nominee has had on their profession and/or community.
• How the nominee stands out from their peers.
• What makes the nominee inspirational to students and alumni.
• How the nominee has used their education to lead with purpose.

Supporters should return their letters of support, along with a signed FOIP agreement, to the nominator to submit as part of the nomination package.

Tips for a strong nomination

Consider the following questions before you start writing:

- What sets the nominee apart from others who would not qualify for this award?
- Based on the award criteria, do your nominee’s qualifications and/or experience make them a strong candidate for this award?
- What have they accomplished beyond their usual scope of work/study that makes them exceptional and worthy of this award?

Next, consider how you can highlight your answers to the above questions:

- Provide specific examples of your nominee’s achievements.
- Include details on the specific impact(s) they have had.
- Highlight the nominee’s accomplishments on a whole, beyond a personal reflection or interaction that you had with the person.
Tips for a strong nomination

• Consider whether the nomination package would resonate with someone outside of the profession/specialty of the nominee who may not have the background knowledge to evaluate the context of the achievements you have outlined.

• Target your writing toward a general audience to ensure it is understood by nomination reviewers from a variety of backgrounds.

• Avoid profession-specific jargon as much as possible.

FAQs

Can I nominate someone for more than one category?
Yes—often a nominee’s achievements fit more than one category.

Can I nominate someone if I am not a U of A grad?
Yes! Letters of support can come from non-grads too. Only the nominee has to be a U of A grad. See the eligibility requirements for more information.

Can I nominate myself?
Yes you can. Your letters of support should come from three other individuals.

Should I tell the person I am nominating them?
To avoid disappointment and to respect the privacy of all parties, nominations are kept confidential and we recommended that the nominee not be advised of the nomination.
FAQs

Can I be the nominator and write a letter of support?
Yes—although we recommend finding three different individuals as it may help to add more context and details to the nomination package.

Can I nominate someone who has already received an Alumni Award?
Yes, but it must be in a different category, and the nomination must highlight the achievements since the last award was given.

Can I re-submit a nomination for someone who wasn't selected?
Yes you can! Nominations are automatically considered for two years. If it is not selected after that time, you can re-submit it, but we recommend re-writing the nomination (and you can reach out to us for tips/feedback!).

FAQs

Can you help me identify supporters?
No. We are often not familiar with the nominees. Those who know the nominee are best suited to find supporters (friends, family, colleagues, former classmates, fellow volunteers, etc.).

What happens if I submit a nomination package but the alumnus is ineligible?
We will notify you that your nominee is ineligible and you can re-submit if they become eligible.

What happens if I want to submit pieces of a nomination package but it is not complete by the deadline?
We can only consider complete nominations. You must have all pieces to submit online.

Can I submit multiple nomination packages in the same year?
Yes. There is no limit on the number of nominations submitted.
