

Summer Sunset Monica Morrill

Hello everyone,

Well it's been quite the summer right?

One little personal update. First it was Oct 2022, then June and now I'm quitting this December! Mainly because of one day in particular that tipped me over. Feeling like a technician/cog in the production machine model of medicine is not the way I want to practice. So I'm Done.

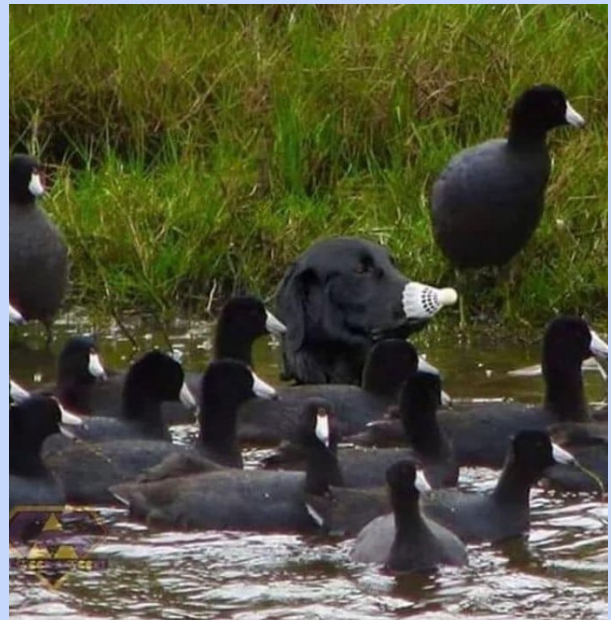

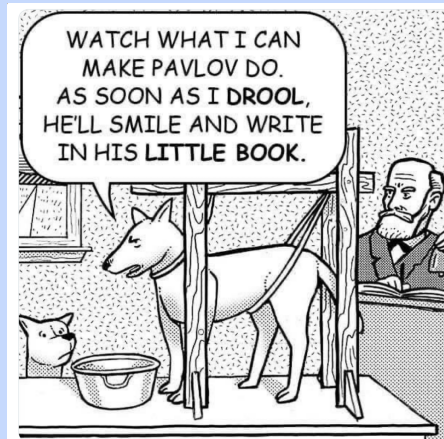

We can't have a party so the final four editions of Sue's News will include a bit of summing up and a lot of thanks to the people that have sustained my career. Plus of course the usual laughs!

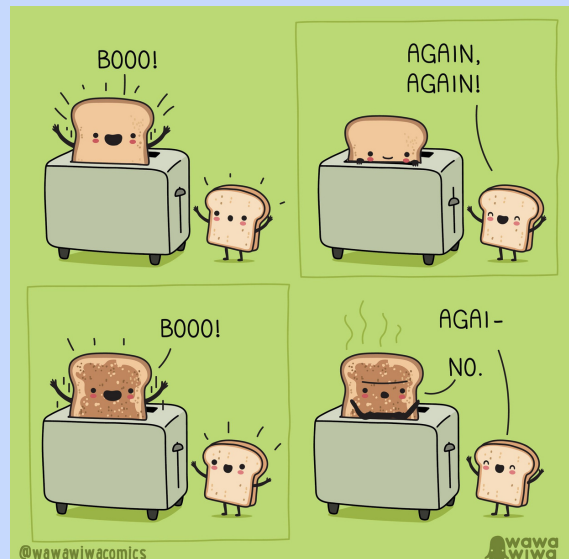

For this End-of-Summer issue I'm unashamedly ignoring the news, politics, social media and doom scrolling content of my mind. Let's indulge in a little whimsy, cute dogs, silly stuff and a lot of humor. Starting with pics from the Great British Seaside Summer Holiday circa 1960s. Any Brit of my vintage remembers awkwardly changing on the beach like this , traditionally without the hat!

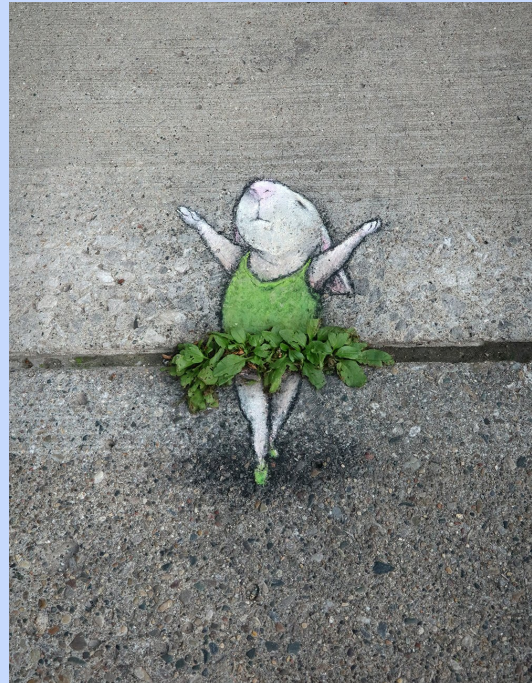

Sirkka-Liisa Konttinen

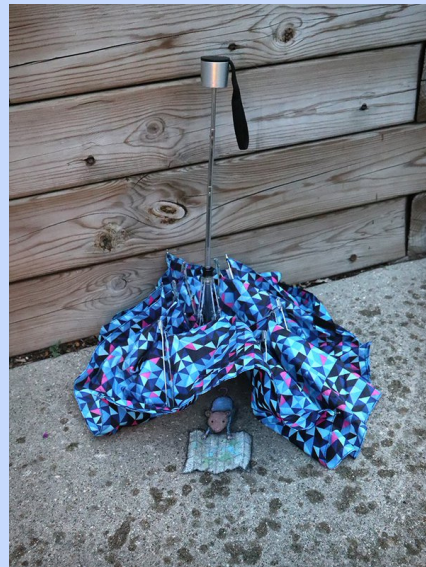

works of ephemeral pareidolic anamorphosis by david zinn

Sidewalk Chalk Art zinnart.com

Berger & Wyse

PET PEEVE

Keeping a chameleon for a pet is something that I now regret.

At first, as far as I could tell,

he seemed to blend in very well,

but he's changed a lot in many ways

I've not seen him now for fourteen days.

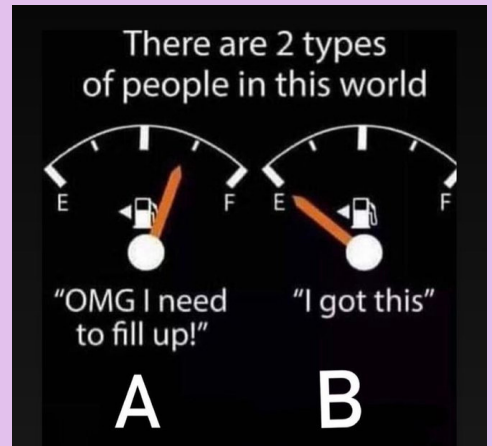

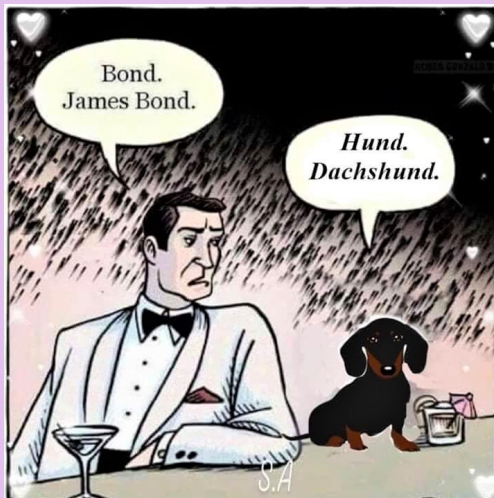

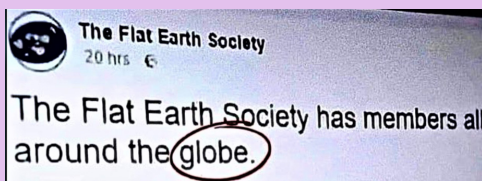

Brian Bilston

Savage Chickens

by Doug Savage

www.savagechickens.com

Wading Dee Nickerson

Woman and Dog 1935 Christina Malman

I lied and said I was busy.
I was busy; but not in a way most people understand.

I was busy taking deeper breaths.
I was busy silencing irrational thoughts.
I was busy calming a racing heart.
I was busy telling myself I am okay.

Sometimes, this is my busy,
and I will not apologize for it.

b. oakman

Thanks so much for reading, Stay safe and please reach out if you need to talk to someone.

All good things, and much love, Sue

susanjeanreid@gmail.com

