

U OF A CAREER CENTRE

Recruitment starts with engagement.

Engaged employers hire top talent.

Our services go beyond recruitment to help you find unique and meaningful ways to engage with U of A students and alumni.

We have adapted our services to be delivered remotely in response to these challenging times so that you can continue to connect with the best and brightest the U of A has to offer.

We help small, medium, and large employers—local, national, and international—connect with U of A undergraduate and graduate students, postdoctoral fellows, and alumni from all faculties and levels of study for the purposes of recruitment and hiring. We seek to provide employers and U of A students with opportunities to take action, explore their interests, and get involved in life beyond academics.

We encourage employers and alumni to take action and get involved in students' career development. Action that involves a campus presence, meaningful engagement with students, and support of student services.
