Blended Learning Mix Map

Blended Learning Series - What will my blend be?

Instructions

The sample Mix Maps (DHE 400; MAN 4350) will assist you in visualizing how you can design your own. Note how the elements relate what happens online/outside to what happens in the face-to-face class time. To make a copy of this file to your own Google Drive, click "file" followed by "make a copy". Then you can edit the following graphic by double clicking it to open the edit drawing dialogue box. To save your changes click the blue "save and close" button in the top right of the edit drawing box. Alternatively you can print off this document by clicking "file" followed by "print". You will want to "print using system dialogue."

Replace the text in the Venn diagram below with your own notes about elements that you envision occurring face-to-face, online, or both.

This material is licensed under a Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 License Adapted by JR Dingwall for the Centre for Teaching and Learning at the University of Alberta, from the Blended Learning Toolkit, originally published under a CC-BY-NC-SA 3.0 Unported License

Blended Learning Mix Map

Face-to-Face

Online

This material is licensed under a Attribution-NonCommercial-ShareAlike 4.0 License

Adapted by JR Dingwall for the Centre for Teaching and Learning at the University of Alberta, from the Blended Learning Toolkit, originally published under a CC-BY-NC-SA 3.0 Unported License

Blended Learning Mix Map

Page 2 of 2