University of Alberta Proof of Vaccination

As per the University of Alberta's Vaccination Directive, all students and employees (faculty and staff) must be fully vaccinated or have an approved U of A exemption accommodation to attend U of A campuses or properties.

Individuals who are partially vaccinated or have a pending exemption accommodation must continue with the University's COVID-19 rapid testing requirements until they are fully vaccinated or have an approved U of A exemption accommodation.

The CampusReady Pass

The U of A uses a digital card called a CampusReady pass to verify proof of vaccination or approved exemption. All students, faculty and staff members currently attending U of A campuses and other properties are required to have a CampusReady pass ready to present as needed. Those without CampusReady passes are NOT permitted on U of A properties. The CampusReady pass is now the only proof accepted to confirm that students, staff and faculty have provided valid proof of vaccination or approved exemption.

Individuals can submit their proof of vaccination or exemption by using an online web form accessible from the U of A's COVID-19 website at uab.ca/ready. Submitting proof of rapid test results is available through the MyUAlberta app. Once individuals have submitted valid documentation, they will receive a CampusReady pass by email.

Who can request to see a CampusReady pass

- Instructors
- Campus service representatives (ie. students services staff members, campus recreation representatives, SU services, UAPS, etc.)
- Event organizers (ie. workshop organizers, social event coordinators, athletic/recreation event leads, etc.)
- Supervisors
- HR Service Partners or other representatives from Human Resources
- Representatives from the Office of the Dean of Students

Student CampusReady verifications are underway by the Dean of Students Office.

Supervisors should check that their staff have a valid pass.

When can eligible members of our campus community request proof of a CampusReady pass?

A CampusReady pass may be requested

- Upon entry to a classroom or lab space
- Upon entry to service spaces (ie: libraries, vendors, service offices, Campus & Community Recreation sites, etc.)
- Upon entry to one or limited time campus events (ie: service visits, performances, games, conferences, etc.)
- Upon request as needed by university, event, or campus service representatives

A CampusReady is NOT required to be requested

- Upon entry to a residence

Verifying a CampusReady pass

Employees who are required to check for CampusReady passes may need to confirm the identity of the pass holder by asking to see a piece of photo ID. To verify a CampusReady pass you will need to check the individual's name or CCID on the pass against another form of identification (e.g. a ONEcard or a driver's license).

The date indicated on a CampusReady pass must be October 1, 2021, or later. Once the MyUAlberta app functionality fully launches, CampusReady passes displayed through the app will show the date on the day of presentation of the pass.

Individuals may currently share proof of an approved pass by presenting:

A saved image of the original approved CampusReady confirmation email on a mobile device.

The original approved CampusReady confirmation email on a mobile device.

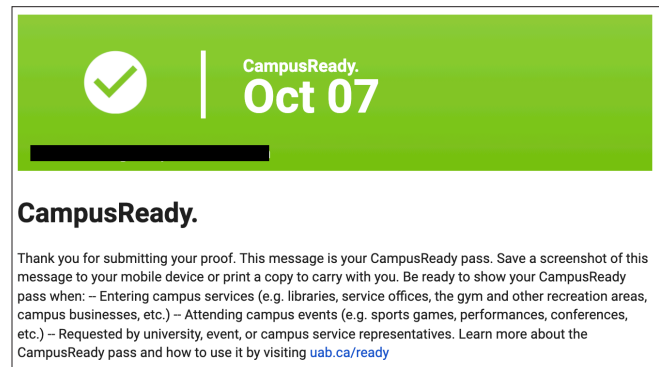

A printed copy of the original approved CampusReady confirmation email.

Work is underway to make it easier to check for a CampusReady pass on mobile devices via the MyUAlberta app. Details will be shared once this feature is made available.

Approved pass

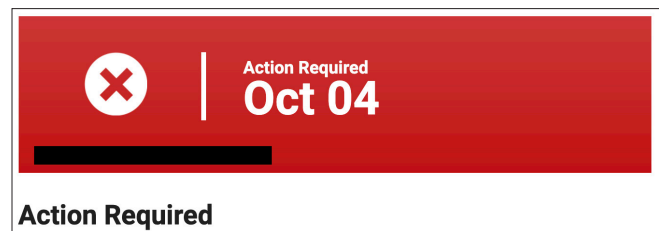

Individuals with approved CampusReady passes may attend U of A campuses and properties.

Negative test results as part of the rapid-test program will result in a temporary approved pass. Individuals with temporary approved CampusReady passes may attend U of A campuses and properties for 72 hours from the date displayed on their temporary CampusReady pass.

Documentation not approved

Individuals who have failed to submit proof of vaccination and/or approved exemption documentation will receive an "Action Required" notice. Individuals who present "Action Required" notices are not permitted to attend U of A campuses. They should follow the instructions outlined in their notice if they would like to obtain a CampusReady pass.
