

ART Classes

First Year Art Fundamentals

Registration dates and other info:

Restricted to BA Art & Design and BEd Art majors until July 31. Open to BA Art & Design and BEd Art minors starting on August 1. Open to all other Art & Design minors starting on August 15. All other students may contact artdesug@ualberta.ca after September 1 to request manual registration where space allows. Students are advised to register in sections of ART 134 and DES 135 in alternate terms of the same year. Online registration in ART 134 will close one hour after the second class has commenced. Students must be registered and in attendance during the second class in order to continue in the course.

ART 134 Art Fundamentals (non-BFA/BDES)

3 credits. Studio-based exploration of both visual and conceptual Fine Art concerns in two- and three-dimensions. Note: ART 134 and DES 135 are required prerequisites for senior level ART or DES courses.

Fall Term

Art 134 A1: M W 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

Art 134 A2: T R 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

Art 134 A3: T R 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

Art 134 X01: T R 6:30 PM-9:20 PM

Winter Term

Art 134 B1: M W 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

Art 134 B2: T R 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

Art 134 B3: M W 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

Art 134 X50: T R 6:30 PM-9:20 PM

ART 136 Art Fundamentals I (BFA/BDES only)

*3 credits. Studio-based exploration of both visual and conceptual Fine Art concerns in two- and three-dimensions. Note: Restricted to first year BFA and BDesign students - no exceptions.

Fall Term

Art 136 A1: M W 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

Art 136 A2: T R 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

ART 137 Art Fundamentals II (BFA/BDES only)

3 credits. Further study of studio-based exploration of both visual and conceptual Fine Art concerns in two- and three-dimensions. Note: Restricted to first-year BFA and BDesign students- no exceptions. Prerequisite: ART 136.

Winter Term

Art 137 B1: M W 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

Art 137 B2: T R 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

Senior Level ART studio classes

Registration info

Online registration in all ART and DES classes will close one hour after the second class has commenced. Students must be registered and in attendance during the second class in order to continue in the course.

Credit limits

- BFA and BDES students may register themselves in no more than 9 credits of senior level ART and/or DES classes per term.
- BA Art & Design and BEd Art majors may register themselves in no more than 6 credits of senior level ART and/or DES classes per term.
- Art & Design minors may register themselves in no more than 3 credits of senior level ART and/or DES classes per term.
- For help with additional courses where space permits, email artdesug@ualberta.ca with course request on or after your Art & Design registration period begins (exact dates will be posted in Bear Tracks when registration opens).

Prerequisites

Students must ensure that they have the necessary prerequisite courses and grades in order to register themselves. (An averaged grade of at least B- is required in prerequisite courses.) Students missing prerequisite courses and grades will be removed without notice.

Drawing

ART 240 Drawing I

3 credits. Study of the principles and techniques of drawing. Includes drawing from life models. Please note:

Winter term sections are restricted to first year BFA and BDes students.

Prerequisites: ART 134 and DES 135 or ART 136 and DES 138 and consent of Department. Not open to students with credit in ART 140.

Fall Term

Art 240 A1: M W 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

Art 240 X01: M W 6:30 PM-9:20 PM

Winter Term

Art 240 B1: M W 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

Art 240 B2: T R 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

ART 340 Drawing II

3 credits. Development and application of techniques and concepts of drawing with emphasis on drawing from the life model. Intended to provide the student with a range of experiences and information, both practical and conceptual. The main emphasis of the course is to explore the representation of the human figure, primarily based on observation.

Prerequisite: ART 140 or ART 240 and consent of Department.

Fall Term

Art 340 A1: M W 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

Art 340 A2: F 9:00 AM-11:50 AM, 1:00 PM-3:50 PM

Winter Term

Art 340 B1: F 9:00 AM-11:50 AM, 1:00 PM-3:50 PM

Media Art

ART 350 Media Arts: Digital Media I

3 credits. This studio course explores concept-based modes of contemporary art production with an emphasis on digital media arts. Approaches may include: digital imaging, sound, video and animation. Projects focus on digital image making, 3D modelling and rendering, and time based digital work such as animation and video. Students are introduced to a broad range of contemporary media artists and are encouraged to engage critically with new media technologies.

Prerequisites: ART 134 and DES 135, or ART 136 and DES 138, or consent of the Department.

Fall Term

Art 350 A1: T R 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

Winter Term

Art 350 B1: T R 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

ART 351 Media Arts: Installation I

3 credits. This studio course explores concept-based modes of art production using expanded studio practices that may include digital media, installation, performance, video, and other media-based practices. Projects focus on the relationship between a media artwork with a physical object or space; site-specific installation, and interactive or participatory artwork. Students are introduced to a broad range of contemporary artists working in media installation and are encouraged to engage critically with new media technologies. Prerequisites: ART 134 and DES 135 or ART 136 and DES 138 or consent of the Department.

Fall Term

Art 351 A1: T R 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

ART 354 - Expanded Media: Special Projects I

3 credits. Introductory studio course that explores concept-based modes of art production. Students use expanded studio methods with a focus on critical fine art practices addressing special project themes such as the Anthropocene, Social Justice, Body & Technology. The theme of the class is dependent on the specialization of the instructor, but typically students will be introduced to key theoretical concepts and resources relating to the theme and create a media artwork inspired by the ideas introduced culminating in an public exhibition.

Winter 2027 Description: Blending Sound, Sensors and Textiles

In this class students will work with sensors and textiles to create an interactive sound installation and/or a wearable sonic sculpture. Additionally students will work with 3D modelling software Blender to create a virtual online exhibition.

Prerequisites: ART 134 and DES 135, or ART 136 and DES 138, or consent of the Department

Winter Term

Art 354 B1: T R 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

ART 450 Media Art: Digital Media II

3 credits. Intermediate studio course that explores concept-based modes of arts production. Students use expanded studio practices with an emphasis on digital media arts. Approaches may include: digital imaging, sound, video, 3D modelling, interactive and generative art. Students are introduced to relevant digital media artists and are encouraged to engage critically with new media technologies. Prerequisites: Any 3 units of ART 35X, or consent of the Department. Note: Students are encouraged to take ART 350 prior to taking ART 450.

Fall Term

Art 450 A1: T R 8:00 am - 10:50 am

Winter Term

Art 450 B1: T R 8:00 am - 10:50 am

ART 451 Media Arts: Installation II

3 credits. Intermediate studio course that explores concept-based modes of art production. Students use expanded studio practices that include installation and other media-based practices. The course is run concurrently with ART 351, and is structured around three main projects. Projects focus on the relationship between a media artwork with a physical object or space, site-specific installation, and interactive art (either an interactive digital work or a work that actively engages the audience). If a student has already taken ART 351, they will be expected to develop more technically ambitious and conceptually rigorous work, working towards a self-directed media art studio practice. Students are introduced to contemporary artists working in media installation and are encouraged to engage critically with new media technologies.

Prerequisites: Any 3 units of ART 35X, or consent of the Department

Fall Term

Art 451 A1: T R 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

ART 454 – Expanded Media: Special Projects II

3 credits. Intermediate studio course that explores concept-based modes of art production. Students use expanded studio methods with a focus on critical fine art practices addressing variable topic themes such as the Anthropocene, Social Justice, Body & Technology. The theme of the class is dependent on the specialization of the instructor, but typically students will be introduced to key theoretical concepts and resources relating to the theme and create a media artwork inspired by the ideas introduced.

Winter 2027 Description: Blending Sound, Sensors and Textiles In this class students will work with sensors and textiles to create an interactive sound installation and/or a wearable sonic sculpture. Additionally students will work with 3D modelling software Blender to create a virtual online exhibition.

Prerequisites: Any 3 units of ART 35X, or consent of the Department

Winter Term

Art 454 B1: T R 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

ART 550 Sculpture & Expanded Media: Advanced Studio with Professional Practice

3 credits. Advanced individual study in Media Arts and/or Sculpture and professional art practice. Students will develop self-directed studio projects that build upon previous media art and sculpture classes, tying in with regular professional practice sessions focusing on writing grant applications, art promotion (building websites, writing artist statements and social media presence), and working with galleries and museums. Lectures, readings, and practical exercises will prepare students for class discussions on how to navigate a professional arts practice in a critical manner. Students will be allocated a space in either the senior sculpture or media arts studio depending on their needs.

Prerequisites: 12 units from: (ART 35X, ART 45X, ART 36X, or ART 46X including at least 6 units ART 45x and/or ART 46x) OR (ART 35X or ART 36X, AND 6 units from 400-level ART) or consent of Department.

Fall Term

Art 550 A1: F 9:00 AM-11:50 AM, 1:00 PM-3:50 PM

ART 551 Sculpture & Expanded Media: Advanced Studio with optional Collaborative Practice

3 credits. Advanced study in Media Arts and/or Sculpture practices and collaborative art approaches. Students will develop self-directed studio projects that build upon previous media art and sculpture classes, while being introduced to collaborative art practices/strategies. Students have the option to work collaboratively with other student/s to create artwork for an exhibition. Lectures, readings, and workshops will provide historical and contemporary contexts in collaborative art practices, and how these notions can be applied and discussed critically within the context of the students' individual and joint work. Students will be allocated a space in either the senior sculpture or media arts studio depending on their needs.

Prerequisites: 12 units from: (ART 35X, ART 45X, ART 36X, or ART 46X including at least 6 units ART 45x and/or ART 46x) OR (ART 35X or ART 36X, AND 6 units from 400-level ART) or consent of Department.

Fall Term

Art 551 B1: M W 2:00 PM -4:50 PM

ART 560 - Sculpture & Expanded Media: Advanced Studio I

3 credits. Advanced individual study in Media Arts and/or Sculpture practices. In coordination with the instructor and within a studio setting, the student will develop a self-directed body of work building upon the notions explored in previous media art and sculpture classes, and structured around current topics and theoretical framings of their choice. Students will be allocated a space in either the senior sculpture or media arts studio depending on their needs.

Prerequisites: 12 units from: (ART 35X, ART 45X, ART 36X, or ART 46X including at least 6 units ART 45x and/or ART 46x) OR (ART 35X or ART 36X, AND 6 units from 400-level ART) or consent of Department.

Fall Term

Art 560 A1: T R 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

ART 561 - Sculpture & Expanded Media: Advanced Studio II

3 credits. Advanced individual study in Media Arts and/or Sculpture practices. In coordination with the instructor and within a studio setting, the student will develop a self-directed body of work building upon the notions explored in previous media art and sculpture classes, and structured around current topics and theoretical framings of their choice. Students will be allocated a space in either the senior sculpture or media arts studio depending on their needs.

Prerequisites: 12 units from: (ART 35X, ART 45X, ART 36X, or ART 46X including at least 6 units ART 45x and/or ART 46x) OR (ART 35X or ART 36X, AND 6 units from 400-level ART) or consent of Department.

Winter Term

Art 561 B1: T R 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

Painting

ART 310 - Painting: Introductory Studies I

3 credits. Introduction to the principles, concepts, and techniques of painting. Projects based on observation with reference to both historical and contemporary examples. Acrylic medium.

Prerequisites: ART 134 and DES 135, or ART 136 and DES 138, or consent of the Department. Note: Normally ART 311 must be taken in the same academic year.

Fall Term

Art 310 A1: M W 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

Art 310 A2: T R 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

Art 310 X01: T R 6:30 PM-9:20 PM

ART 311 - Painting: Introductory Studies II

3 credits. Continued exploration of the principles, concepts and techniques of painting. Projects based on observation with reference to both historical and contemporary examples. Oil medium.

Prerequisites: ART 134 and DES 135, or ART 136 and DES 138, or consent of the Department. Note: Normally ART 310 must be taken in the same academic year.

Winter Term

Art 311 B1: M W 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

Art 311 B2: T R 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

Art 311 X50: T R 6:30 PM-9:20 PM

ART 410 - Painting: Intermediate Studies I

3 credits. A project-based course exploring principles, concepts and techniques of painting.

Prerequisites: ART 310 and 311 or consent of the Department. Note: Normally ART 411 must be taken in the same academic year.

Fall Term

Art 410 A1: M W 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

Art 410 A2: T R 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

ART 411 - Painting: Intermediate Studies II

3 credits. Further study of advanced principles, concepts and techniques of painting, leading to self-initiated projects.

Prerequisites: ART 310 and 311 or consent of the Department. Note: Normally ART 410 must be taken in the same academic year.

Winter Term

Art 411 B1: M W 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

Art 411 B2: T R 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

ART 510 - Painting: Advanced Studies I

3 credits. Individual directed study in a studio/workshop environment.

Prerequisites: ART 410 and 411 or consent of the Department.

Fall Term

Art 510 A1: M W 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

ART 516 - Painting: Advanced Studies III

3 credits. Individual directed study in a studio/workshop environment.

Prerequisites: ART 410 and 411 or consent of the Department.

Fall Term

Art 516 A1: M W 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

ART 517 - Painting: Advanced Studies IV

Individual directed study in a studio/workshop environment. Prerequisites: ART 510 or 516 or consent of the Department.

Winter Term

Art 517 B1: M W 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

Printmaking

ART 322 - Printmaking: Introductory Studies (Silkscreen)

3 credits. Introduction to the principles and technical applications of printmaking through silkscreen techniques. The course will introduce creative methodologies and strategies related to printmaking, which will also have relevance for a wide range of both design and art studio practices. The course will also introduce printmaking in relation to historic and contemporary art practices.

Prerequisites: ART 134 and DES 135, or ART 136 and DES 138, or consent of the Department. Note: Normally ART 323 must be taken in the same academic year. Given the unique workload of printmaking studio courses, students are strongly encouraged to take ART 322 and 323 in separate terms.

Fall Term

Art 322 A1: T R 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

Art 322 X01: M W 6:00 PM-8:50 PM

Winter Term

Art 322 B1: M W 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

Art 322 B2: T R 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

ART 323 - Printmaking: Introductory Studies (Intaglio/Relief)

3 credits. Exploration of the principles and technical applications of printmaking through intaglio and relief techniques (such as woodcut, collagraph, linocut). The course will introduce creative methodologies and strategies related to printmaking, which will also have relevance for a wide range of both design and art studio practices. The course will also introduce printmaking in relation to historic and contemporary art practices.

Prerequisites: ART 134 and DES 135, or ART 136 and DES 138, or consent of the Department. Note: Normally ART 322 must be taken in the same academic year. Given the unique workload of printmaking studio courses, students are encouraged to take ART 322 and 323 in separate terms if possible

Fall Term

Art 323 A1: M W 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

Art 323 A2: T R 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

Winter Term

Art 323 B1: T R 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

ART 422 - Printmaking: Intermediate Studies (Lithography)

3 credits. Study of the principles and technical applications of printmaking with an emphasis on lithography. The course will further expand creative methodologies and strategies related to printmaking, but which will also have relevance for a wide range of both design and studio practices. The course will further explore printmaking in relation to historic and contemporary art practices.

Prerequisites: ART 322 and ART 323 or consent of the Department. Note: Normally ART 423 must be taken in the same academic year. Students are strongly encouraged to take ART 422 and 423 in separate terms.

Fall Term

Art 422 A1: M W 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

Winter Term

Art 422 B1: M W 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

ART 423 - Printmaking: Intermediate Studies (Etching)

3 credits. Study of the principles and technical applications of printmaking with an emphasis on etching. The course will further expand creative methodologies and strategies related to printmaking, but which will also have relevance for a wide range of both design and studio practices. The course will further explore printmaking in relation to historic and contemporary art practices.

Prerequisites: ART 322 and ART 323 or consent of the Department. Note: Not open to students with 6-units in ART 422. Normally ART 422 must be taken in the same academic year. Students are strongly encouraged to take ART 422 and 423 in separate terms

Fall Term

Art 423 A1: M W 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

Winter Term

Art 423 B1: M W 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

ART 426 - Word and Image: Intermediate Projects in Printmaking for Artists and Designers

3 credits; Fall Term only

Exploration of the multiple relationships between word and image generated through consideration of text. The course will introduce printmaking in relation to historic and contemporary art practices with a particular focus on the creative possibilities of combining word and image in a range of printmaking studio practices/methodologies related to both design and fine art.

Prerequisites: ART 322 and ART 323. Pre or corequisites: ART 422 and/or ART 423. Note: ART 426, ART 526, DES 426 and DES 526 will be taught in conjunction. Not open to students who have successfully completed DES 425.

Fall Term

Art 426 X01 T R 6:00 PM-8:50 PM

ART 522 - Printmaking: Advanced Studies I

6 credits. Advanced study of the principles and technical applications of printmaking emphasizing mixed media and photographic techniques. This self-directed course is structured to guide students to produce a cohesive body of work, with a focus on printmaking within the context of broader historic and contemporary art practices.

Prerequisites: ART 422 and 423 or consent of the Department. Full-year course; students must register in Part A (Fall) and Part B (Winter).

Must register both Fall and Winter terms: Art 522A/B C1: T R 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

ART 524 - Printmaking: Advanced Studies II

6 credits. Advanced individual study of drawing and other image-making processes and their application in printmaking.

Pre- or corequisites: ART 522 and consent of the Department. Full year course; students must request registration in Part A (Fall) and Part B (Winter) by emailing artdesug@ualberta.ca .

Must register both Fall and Winter terms: Art 524A/B C1: T R 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

ART 526 - Word and Image: Advanced Projects in Printmaking for Artists and Designers

3 credits; Fall Term only

Exploration of the multiple relationships between word and image generated through consideration of text. The course will introduce printmaking in relation to historic and contemporary art practices with a particular focus on the creative possibilities of combining word and image in a range of printmaking studio practices/methodologies related to both design and fine art. Prerequisites: ART 422, ART 423 and ART 425. Pre- or corequisite: ART 522. Note: ART 426, ART 526, DES 426 and DES 526 will be taught in conjunction. Not open to students who have successfully completed DES 525.

If the 500-level section is full, contact artdesug@ualberta.ca for help with registration.

Fall Term

Art 526 X01 T R 6:00 PM-8:50 PM

Sculpture

ART 360 - Structural Sculpture I

3 credits. Introductory studies in sculpture with a focus on the constructed object. A range of approaches are introduced, which may include woodworking, welding, assemblage, etc. Lectures that are inclusive of culturally diverse practices provide examples of their applications in contemporary sculpture. Students present their work-in-progress through critiques, class discussions and individual consultations with the instructor; completed work is submitted as a portfolio at the end of the semester. Prerequisites: ART 134 and DES 135, or ART 136 and DES 138, or consent of the Department.

Fall Term

Art 360 A1: M W 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

WinterTerm

Art 360 B1: T R 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

ART 361 – Formed Sculpture I

3 credits. Introductory studies in sculpture with a focus on the formed object. Approaches may include modelling in clay, mold making, casting and carving, while lectures that are inclusive of culturally diverse practices provide examples their applications in contemporary sculpture. Students present their work-in-progress through critiques, class discussions and individual consultations with the instructor; completed work is submitted as a portfolio at the end of the semester.

Prerequisites: ART 134 and DES 135, or ART 136 and DES 138, or consent of the Department.

Fall Term

Art 361 A1: T R 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

Winter Term

Art 361 B1: M W 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

ART 362 - Soft Sculpture I

3 credits. Introductory studies in performative materiality and expanded sculptural practices. Students will acquire technical and practical knowledge towards the production of sculptures using textiles and fiber arts, soft polymers, paper, and reclaimed materials through technical demonstrations and by exploring fabrication techniques. Lectures that are inclusive of culturally diverse practices will provide examples of the applications of soft sculpture in contemporary sculpture. Students present their work-in-progress through critiques, class discussions and individual consultations with the instructor; completed work is submitted as a portfolio at the end of the semester.

Prerequisites: ART 134 and DES 135, or ART 136 and DES 138, or consent of the Department.

WinterTerm

Art 362 B1: F 9:00 AM-11:50 AM, 1:00 PM-3:50 PM

ART 365 - Variable Topics in Expanded Sculpture I: Sculpture as Actor: Props and Theatricality

3 credits. Introductory studies in expanded sculpture, with a focus on theatricality and performance in sculpture, the prop, and performative materiality. Performance methods and approaches will be surveyed through in-class workshops, readings and lectures providing the students with context for them to critically discuss and conceptualize around the subject of sculpture as a performance partner, sculpture as a site for performance, and sculpture as a tool for performance, while developing their studio projects. Students present their work-in-progress through critiques, class discussions and individual consultations with the instructor; completed work is submitted as a portfolio at the end of the semester.

Prerequisites: ART 134 and DES 135, or ART 136 and DES 138, or consent of the Department.

Pre- or Corequisite: ART 360. NOTE: We will also accept a prerequisite or corequisite of ART 361 or ART 362 or ART 351; please email artdesug@ualberta.ca to request manual registration if you do have one of these courses as prerequisites or corequisites instead of ART 360.

Fall Term

Art 365 A1: M W 2:00 PM-4:50 PM

ART 460 - Structural Sculpture II

3 credits. Intermediate studies in sculpture expanding on the approaches and techniques around the concept of the constructed object. Students gain experience in independently developing three-dimensional artistic works within the context of contemporary sculpture. Readings and lectures that are inclusive of culturally diverse practices provide the students context for them to develop the skills to critically discuss the constructed object in 3D visual culture. Students present their work-in-progress through critiques, class discussions and individual consultations with the instructor; completed work is submitted as a portfolio at the end of the semester.

Prerequisites: ART 360 or consent of the Department.

Fall Term

Art 460 A1: T R 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

Winter Term

Art 460 B1: M W 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

ART 461 - Formed Sculpture II

3 credits. Intermediate studies in sculpture expanding on the approaches and techniques around the concept of the formed object. Students gain experience in independently developing three-dimensional artistic works within the context of contemporary sculpture. Readings and lectures that are inclusive of culturally diverse practices provide the students context for them to develop the skills to critically discuss the formed object in 3D visual culture. Students present their work-in-progress through critiques, class discussions and individual consultations with the instructor; completed work is submitted as a portfolio at the end of the semester.

Prerequisites: Any 3 units of ART 36X, or consent of the Department. Note: Students are strongly recommended to take ART 361 before taking ART 461.

Winter Term

Art 461 B1: T R 8:00 AM-10:50 AM

ART 462 - Soft Sculpture II

3 credits. Intermediate studies in performative materiality and expanded sculptural practices. Students will expand on their technical and practical knowledge by independently producing sculptures using textiles and fiber arts, soft polymers, paper, and reclaimed materials in consultation with the instructor and in response to the topics surveyed in class. Lectures that are inclusive of culturally diverse practices will lead to discussion introducing the students in addressing critically the applications of soft sculpture in contemporary sculpture. Students present their work-in-progress through critiques, class discussions and individual consultations with the instructor; completed work is submitted as a portfolio at the end of the semester.

Prerequisites: Any 3 units of ART 36X, or consent of the Department. Note: Students are strongly recommended to take ART 362 before taking ART 462.

Winter Term

Art 462 B1: F 9:00 AM-11:50 AM, 1:00 PM-3:50 PM

ART 465 – Expanded Sculpture: Variable Topics II: Sculpture as Actor: Props and Theatricality

3 credits.

Introductory studies in expanded sculpture, with a focus on theatricality and performance in sculpture, the prop, and performative materiality. Performance methods and approaches will be surveyed through in-class workshops, readings and lectures providing the students with context for them to critically discuss and conceptualize around the subject of sculpture as a performance partner, sculpture as a site for performance, and sculpture as a tool for performance, while developing their studio projects. Students present their work-in-progress through critiques, class discussions and individual consultations with the instructor; completed work is submitted as a portfolio at the end of the semester.

Prerequisites: Any 3 units of ART 36X. NOTE: we will also accept ART 351 as a prerequisite for ART 465 please email artdesug@ualberta.ca to request manual registration if you have ART 351 as your prerequisite
