LET'S TALK HEALTH

Protecting Your Kidneys:
What everyone should know about kidney health

DR. BILL FISSELL
Professor
Department of Medicine

FREE PUBLIC WEBINAR

This session will explore what your kidneys do, common factors that can affect kidney health, and why regular health monitoring, including blood pressure checks, can help identify potential concerns early. Participants will learn about the connection between kidney health and blood pressure, common signs and symptoms to be aware of, and practical steps that can help support long-term kidney health.
