

Join the worldwide network of researchers and practitioners dedicated to understanding and enhancing the lives of parents with learning difficulties and their children.

Join the Special Interest Research Group on Parenting with Intellectual Disabilities

1. Visit www.iassid.org
2. On the right of the screen, click 'Become a IASSID member' to register
3. Once registered you will be directed to the payment form with multiple options (subscribing for JPPID, JIDR journals, SIRG participation)
4. Select the 'Parenting SIRG' option

International Association for the Scientific Study of Intellectual Disabilities

Take advantage of this opportunity for international and multidisciplinary networking; sharing information, developing initiatives, finding new colleagues and becoming visible to newcomers in the field.

The International Association for the Scientific Study of Intellectual Disabilities is an international and interdisciplinary network with official relations with the World Health Organization. IASSID is the first and only world-wide group dedicated to the scientific study of intellectual disability.