

Linda Gorim

Dr. Linda Gorim is an assistant professor in the Department of Agricultural, Food, and Nutritional Science at the University of Alberta. Her experiences growing up in West Africa influenced her pursuit of academia and to improve people's lives. An accomplished researcher, Dr. Gorim develops sustainable cropping systems to support Canadian farmers and their crop yields. Dr. Gorim inspires the next generation of agronomists through storytelling, building connections, and her dedication in providing her students experiential learning and first-hand experiences in the field.
