PRESIDENT’S REPORT

TO THE GENERAL FACULTIES COUNCIL – MARCH 21, 2022

As we have watched the devastating impact of Russia’s invasion of Ukraine, many individuals and offices of the U of A have been engaged in efforts dedicated to responding and supporting those affected. As Canada’s leading institution in Ukrainian studies, we have strong ties to the Ukrainian-Canadian community and have implemented new measures to support displaced Ukrainian students and scholars. On Saturday, March 12, I was honoured to speak at a humanitarian music concert in Convocation Hall that was quickly organized by many faculty and staff in the Faculty of Arts and received overwhelming support from the community. For the most up to date information on the news and efforts supporting the victims in this ongoing crisis, visit ualberta.ca/Ukraine.

Just as the war in Ukraine began, the provincial government tabled Budget 2022 on Feb 24. While the government followed through with its planned reductions to the post-secondary sector, it also announced significant new investment in post-secondary students and programs. As part of the Alberta at Work Program, the government will invest $171 million over three years to increase enrolment and open seats for students in high demand programs. The U of A is in a strong position to take full advantage of the new funding program. We are experiencing record applications and we have both immediate and longer-term plans in place for expanding enrolment. We are ready to move quickly and expand programs where the demand is high, from both students and employers.

This February, we celebrated International Week 2022 which focused on the United Nation Sustainable Development Goals, and Black History Month, which highlighted the contributions Black members of U of A’s community have made to this university and more broadly throughout the community. Over the past year we have made important progress toward recognizing and removing barriers to the full participation of current and prospective Black students, faculty and staff. Since November we have signed the Scarborough Charter on Anti-Black Racism and Black Inclusion in Canadian Higher Education along with more than 40 Canadian universities and colleges, and launched the Black academic excellence cohort hire initiative.

March comes with opportunities to celebrate several other members of our community. On International Women’s Day, March 8th, we recognized incredible women who challenge the status quo to highlight where further efforts are needed to achieve gender-equality across every aspect of society from healthcare to the economy. We also marked the U of A’s Pride Week 2022, March 9-17, celebrating 2SLGBTQ+ individuals and communities at the University of Alberta. And then on March 24th, watch our website and social media channels for Celebrate! and learn more about the students, staff and faculty who won awards in 2021.

After several years of co-existing with COVID-19 and its impacts on our daily lives, I am looking forward to fully experiencing many of the events and initiatives that have been put on hold or changed since my appointment as President in March of 2020. In particular I look forward to personally congratulating graduates at Convocation 2022 this June. Once again, I thank each of you for your ongoing commitment to this university and its students, and the resilience you have shown through our many changes and pivots over the last two years.
The chief focus of University of Tomorrow continues to be the development of the colleges and the implementation of the UAT operating model. Colleges play a critical role in supporting the university's academic mission and achieving the university's goals. In collaboration with faculties, the colleges are currently establishing offices to provide common services for their constituent faculties, enabling faculties to remain focused on their respective academic programming and research missions with minimal resources devoted to administration. In addition to college-level services, colleges will also lead in increasing the level of interdisciplinary teaching, education, and research initiatives within the college, and between the colleges and three stand-alone faculties, in support of institutional research priorities. The Colleges Strategic Plan (2021-2026) was discussed by the Board of Governors at the December 9 meeting and included in GFC’s consent agenda for information on Feb 28, 2022.

Linked to the establishment of the colleges are plans for redistributing academic leadership roles across the institution. After a major period of consultation, in February Provost Steven Dew announced that faculty and college deans are now moving forward with an approach that aligns academic leaders primarily at the faculty level and allocates them on the basis of key drivers of activity, such as number of students, courses, research dollars and grants. This approach will allow for greater flexibility and scalability, and will ensure that U of A’s professors—a valuable and critical resource—are focused on strategic roles that take the best advantage of their skills and expertise.
Partnership results in greener, cheaper hydrogen

With an eye towards a net-zero future, Alberta’s energy sector has a new startup to help make it possible. Aurora Hydrogen, a partnership between researchers at the U of A and University of Toronto, have collaborated on a process that creates hydrogen with a much smaller carbon footprint than the leading green processes in use today. Hydrogen is a key component in upgrading oilsands bitumen into commercial products such as gasoline and diesel fuel. The use of microwaves greatly reduces the amount of electricity expended on the process, and the by-products, including solidified carbon, further reduce the greenhouse gas output. Aurora Hydrogen is now looking to scale-up their pilot project and bring this product to market.

Black History Month needs action, not just words

U of A scholar, Michael A. Bucknor, the Canada Research Chair in Black Studies in the University of Alberta’s Department of English and Film Studies, says that to achieve real value, Black History Month must move beyond symbolic gesture to include action. Ongoing efforts around the U of A to learn about and support the needs of our Black students and faculty have included the signing of the Scarborough Charter and the Black academic excellence cohort hire. Events, resources and initiatives highlighted during Black History Month can be found online.

Partnership supports the health of refugees

Through a partnership between academics, government and local settlement and health-care organizations, refugees settling in the Edmonton area can now have most of their health-care needs serviced in one location. This centralized approach is critical to those refugees dealing with complex needs and medical histories. Several U of A faculty members and programs, including the Community-University Partnership work with the New Canadians Health Centre in its support of these newcomers to Canada.

Free program helps shift small businesses online

The past two years of a global-pandemic have resulted in a greater than expected shift in digital commerce. Customer behaviours have changed so much that a small business will find it difficult to survive without a digital presence. With funding from the Government of Alberta, the student-led Digital Economy Program (DEP) will help set up e-commerce platforms, websites or social media strategies for qualifying small businesses, setting them up to succeed in the new retail landscape.

FURCA celebrates undergraduate achievements

Undergraduate research from across disciplines was celebrated March 8-11 during the Festival of Undergraduate Research and Creative Activities (FURCA). This year the annual festival saw many presenters share work along the theme of undergraduate research in a time of reconciliation, and included a keynote address from Situated Knowledges: Indigenous People and Place (SKIPP) director Dr. Kisha Supernaut.

Peggy St Jacques has been named a 2022 Sloan Research Fellow. The psychology researcher in the University of Alberta’s Faculty of Science is one of the 118 early-career researchers named to this year’s class. Her research on memory, including the use of virtual reality and MRIs, is providing fascinating insight into memory-formation, with promise in advancing treatment of neurological diseases.

ENGAGE

Alumna helps reshape game culture from within Shelby Carleton took an arts degree with one goal in mind: to design video game narratives. From a young age she questioned the roles of women in the games that she played, and was compelled to re-write the possibilities for female gaming characters. Carlton has advocated for increased female agency and criticized traditional gender power dynamics in video games, both within her industry and directly to the public. The progress toward gender-equality across all industries was celebrated with International Women’s Day on March 8, 2022.

Early introduction to parasport is important for all
Every two years the parasport movement receives worldwide attention as the Paralympics take the global stage shortly after the Olympics. According to Danielle Peers, former Paralympian and associate professor in the Faculty of Kinesiology, Sport, and Recreation, there is a need to examine the barriers to participation in parasport long before para-athletes reach that elite stage. Ensuring that participation in sport is accessible to everyone is essential to individual and societal well-being and the impacts of accessibility in sport at a grassroots level cannot be overlooked.
Student government election results

Both the Graduate Students’ Association (GSA) and the U of A Students’ Union (SU) recently held elections for the upcoming academic year. Anas Fassih will be returning as the GSA President for a second term and Abner Monteiro will fill the role of SU President. Congratulations to all incoming student representatives, and thank you to those who have served over this past year.

Government of Alberta Budget 2022

In the Government of Alberta 2022 budget, the university’s 2022-23 provincial grant was reduced by another 10.7%. This is significant—adding another $52 million to the cuts already experienced. However, we are prepared for this reduction and have been working to address it since the launch of U of A for Tomorrow in June 2020. While we still have more work to do, we have made huge progress over the past two years to make our operations more efficient and reduce our administrative costs. We will continue on this path and meet our target for a balanced budget in 2022-23.

1.1 Fill in the table below:

<tr>
<td>Program/specialization name</td>
<td>Agricultural, Food, and Nutritional Science</td>

1.2 Confirm whether:

1.2.1 ☒ This termination proposal was preceded by a ministry-approved suspension period.

☐ This termination proposal was not preceded by a ministry-approved suspension period.

1.2.1a If this proposal was preceded by a suspension, attach approval letter.

1.2.1b If this proposal was not preceded by a suspension, explain why ministry approval for a suspension was not sought prior to requesting a termination.

1.2.1c If not preceded by suspension, indicate when students were last admitted into the program/specialization.

1.2.2 ☒ No active students remain in the program.

☐ Active program students remain in the program.

SECTION 2: RATIONALE
2.1 Identify reason(s) for termination with supporting evidence (e.g., low student demand, declining labour market demand, institutional capacity, provincial priorities, etc.).

The program has been suspended for the past five years and there are no students currently enrolled in the program. The Faculty of Engineering has expressed concerns over the offering of this program. Normally, graduate degrees in engineering satisfy the criteria for professional engineering licensing through APEGA. However, this is only true if the degree is from an Engineering Faculty with accredited programs. There is a great deal of concern that having an MEng offered by another Faculty is confusing to students, the Association of Professional Engineers and Geoscientists of Alberta (APEGA), other accreditation bodies, and potential employers.

2.2 Provide specific information about which internal governance body approved the termination, and provide date of approval.

The suspension (and ultimate termination) of the program is supported by the Faculty of Agricultural, Life and Environmental Sciences, the Faculty of Engineering, the Department of AFNS, and APEGA. The suspension was approved by the Ministry of Advanced Education on November 2, 2016.

The termination proposal will go through internal approval bodies at the University of Alberta:

- Graduate Program Support Team - October 4, 2021
- ALES Faculty Council - December 9, 2021
- FGSR Policy Review Committee - January 12, 2021 (Anticipated)
- FGSR Council - January 26, 2021 (Anticipated)
- GFC Programs Committee - February 10, 2022 (Anticipated)
- GFC Academic Planning Committee
- General Faculties Council
- Board Learning, Research and Student Experience Committee
- Board of Governors

SECTION 3: ACCESS

3.1 Identify student access considerations and risks for Campus Alberta (include information about related programs or other avenues available to students to prepare for careers/employment and/or further educational opportunities).

There is no risk that students previously enrolled will return expecting to finish their degree, and no expected impacts on graduates of the program.
3.2 If this program or specialization is unique in the province, describe the consultation(s) undertaken within Campus Alberta to investigate the feasibility of program/specialization transfer.

As the MEng offered by the Department of AFNS is not accredited by APEGA, there will be no external impacts. In fact, it will ensure that employers and accreditation bodies are not confused by the credential.

3.3 Describe the consultation process that occurred with students at your institution regarding this programming change.

As the termination of the program was referred to in the suspension proposal, and this program has been in suspension, students are aware of the Department of AFNS not offering the program in the past five years.

SECTION 4: IMPACT

4.1 Describe the consultation process that occurred with other stakeholders (e.g., advisory committees, regulatory bodies, employers, etc.) affected by this programming change.

As the MEng offered by the Department of AFNS is not accredited by APEGA, there will be no external impacts. In fact, it will ensure that employers and accreditation bodies are not confused by the credential. The suspension (and ultimate termination) of the program is supported by the Faculty of Engineering and APEGA.

4.2 Describe plans for communicating the termination decision to stakeholders, particularly regulatory bodies (if applicable) and other Campus Alberta institutions.

The termination decision will be sent to the Faculty of Engineering and APEGA for their information. The Calendar will be updated to reflect the termination. As there is no external impact, no actions will be taken to communicate with other Campus Alberta institutions.

4.3 Describe plans for reallocation of resources previously used for this program/specialization and identify budget and staffing impacts.

There are no anticipated impacts on institutional operations and resources.

OTHER CONSIDERATIONS
Please indicate if there are additional factors you would like the ministry to consider when reviewing this proposal.

Dr. David Turpin
President and Vice-Chancellor
University of Alberta
2-24 South Academic Building
Edmonton AB T6G 2G7

Dear Dr. Turpin:

Advanced Education has completed its review of the University of Alberta's proposal to suspend the Agricultural, Food, and Nutritional Science specialization in the Master of Engineering program. The department approves suspending admissions for the July 1, 2018 to June 30, 2021 term.

The department approves the suspension on the understanding that the Board of Governors or delegated institutional authority proposed suspension due to low enrolment and lack of program accreditation. Six months prior to the suspension end date, please advise the department through the Provider and Program Registry System of the university's plan to reactivate or terminate the specialization.

Under the Programs of Study Regulation, proposed changes to this specialization require ministry approval. This includes alterations to the specialization name, load, or duration, as well as the suspension of admissions, termination, reactivation, or transfer.

I appreciate the University of Alberta's commitment to high-quality programming, and your ongoing program review and renewal processes.

Sincerely,

Rod Skura
Deputy Minister

<td>The Purpose of the Proposal is (please be specific)</td>
<td>The proposal outlines the core graduate academic requirements for each respective graduate credential awarded at the UofA, as approved by GFC and the Ministry of Advanced Education.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Executive Summary (outline the specific item – and remember your audience)</td>
<td>FGSR sets and maintains the approved minimum academic requirements for Graduate Programs at the U of A. The establishment of core graduate academic requirements is intended to clearly establish the minimum academic requirements that must be achieved to demonstrate that the essential knowledge and skills commensurate with the credential have been attained. These core graduate academic requirements cannot be waived, exempted, nor accommodated in any way that would alter their integrity and/or the standards, as approved, for the credential being sought. That said, reasonable accommodations may be provided in accordance with the University of Alberta’s Duty to Accommodate Procedure up to the point of undue hardship. Departments and faculties may add to these core graduate academic requirements to address discipline specific requirements that exceed the FGSR institutional minimums.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Context:

Efforts to define core graduate academic requirements in graduate programs follows examples and best practices set by several other Canadian universities (e.g. UManitoba, UWO, CarletonU) in the spirit of inclusivity and accessibility in graduate education.

As noted in a quote from a 2014 report published by CAGS that has motivated consideration of how Core Academic Requirements can be defined and considered: “The issues identified by graduate administrators and student services staff as critical in working with this group of students include the interfaces between a student’s accommodations, the nature of the essential requirements of their academic discipline, and the legislative and policy framework within which the institution operates.”

U of M was a leader in Canadian graduate education when it instituted a similar initiative back in 2015. “The University of Manitoba is one of the first universities in Canada to implement a Bonafide Academic Requirement (BFAR) process, and has been commended by the Province of Manitoba’s Disabilities Issues Office for its strong action plan in support of barrier-free education.” BFARs are the minimum and essential knowledge, skills, abilities, attitudes, and experiences that a student must acquire in order to successfully graduate from a program.

Carleton University also instituted “Essential Requirements:” Essential requirements is a specific term used in human rights legislation, referring to the bona fide requirements of a task or program that cannot be altered without compromising the fundamental nature of the task or program. Determining what is an essential requirement and what is not is critical in distinguishing requirements that cannot be accommodated from what can and should be altered.”

These proposed core graduate academic requirements are intended to work in concert with the U of A’s Duty to Accommodate Procedure so as to provide clarity on what elements of our graduate requirements cannot be waived or exempted; reasonable accommodations may be granted up to the point of undue hardship. They define the minimum requirements that must be completed to earn the credential, enabling the university to apply flexible approaches to accommodate a student’s needs while being cognizant of how these approaches can articulate with the core graduate academic requirements to ensure student success in their respective graduate programs.

These core graduate academic requirements do not alter, compromise, or restrict existing approved program requirements. In fact, they provide the foundation upon which those more discipline specific requirements build.

Departments and Faculties may add to these core graduate academic requirements to address discipline specific requirements that exceed the FGSR institutional minimums.

Academic units may choose not to develop additional requirements above those identified by FGSR for graduate programs; in these instances, the established institutional core graduate academic requirements would apply.

Students requiring accommodations must register with the U of A Academic Success Centre - Accessibility Resources.

The Purpose of the Proposal is (please be specific)

FGSR is proposing to remove the institutional residence requirement for Master’s and Doctoral graduate degree programs. The proposal will not affect those programs who have existing, approved residence requirements. Future program proposals are free to include such a requirement as desired.

Executive Summary (outline the specific item – and remember your audience)

With the onset of COVID-19, it has become clear that the minimum residence requirement for all graduate students is impractical and poses challenges for monitoring and enforcement. Further, the existing calendar regulation provides no direction on outcomes should a student not meet the minimum residence requirement.

Removing the institutional residence requirement will not affect those graduate programs who have existing residence requirements; unit-level monitoring and management will continue to be the responsibility of the department/faculty.

In instances where a program relied on the institutional residence requirement as a minimum and do not wish to implement their own, they will not be required to do so.

Supplementary Notes and context

At the February 10, 2022 meeting of GFC Programs Committee, members had no concerns with this item and recommendation was unanimous.

2022-2023 University of Alberta Proposed Calendar Graduate Program Changes:

Regulations of the Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research

CURRENT

Residence Requirement

Master's Programs: Residence requirements for master's programs are established and monitored by the department. Most course-based master's programs have no residence requirements. See Graduate Programs.

Doctoral Programs: Residence supports two important objectives in these programs:

1. A doctoral program provides students with significant contact with the University of Alberta, through time spent on campus and through interactions with the faculty and graduate students at the University.
2. A doctoral program educates the student as an independent researcher and scholar in an academic discipline, through activities such as coursework, participating in seminars, involvement in teaching, interactions with faculty members and other graduate students, and research under the direction of a faculty member.

The default residence requirement for the PhD and DMus programs is two academic years (where an academic year is defined as the eight-month period from September through April), and 12 continuous months for the EdD.

Specific residence requirements to support these objectives will be established by the department. Changes or exceptions to departmental residence requirement are to be submitted to the Dean of the department's Faculty for approval.

Proposed

Residence Requirement

Master's Programs: FGSR does not have a minimum residency requirement for graduate programs. Most course-based master's programs have no residence requirements, however, students should consult their programs as the academic unit establishes and monitors student residency requirements. See Graduate Programs.

Doctoral Programs: FGSR does not have a minimum residency requirement for graduate programs. However, students should consult their programs as the academic unit establishes and monitors student residency requirements.

Where programs do have a residence requirement, it supports two important objectives in these programs:

3. A doctoral program provides students with significant contact with the University of Alberta, through time spent on campus and through interactions with the faculty and graduate students at the University.
4. A doctoral program educates the student as an independent researcher and scholar in an academic discipline, through activities such as coursework, participating in seminars, involvement in teaching, interactions with faculty members and other graduate students, and research under the direction of a faculty member.

Specific residence requirements to support these objectives will be established by the department. Changes or exceptions to departmental residence requirement are to be submitted to the Dean of the department's Faculty for approval.

Notwithstanding the above, graduate programs reserve the right to require a further demonstration of English language proficiency.

The Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research recognizes four English language examinations:

- The Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL);
- The International English Language Testing System (Academic IELTS);
- The Canadian Academic English Language (CAEL) Assessment;
- The Pearson Test of English Academic (PTE Academic).
The FGSR minimum acceptable scores are:

- TOEFL: total score of 90 with a score of at least 21 on each of the individual skill areas (internet-based) or equivalent;
- Academic IELTS: 6.5, with at least 6.0 on each test band;
- CAEL: overall 70 with at least 60 on each subtest;
- PTE Academic: 61 with a minimum band score of 60. Applicants who take the Pearson test must request that this University be given access to their score.

Individual graduate programs may require higher scores. Consult the appropriate departmental information in Graduate Programs.

In exceptional circumstances, and on the recommendation of an academic unit, the Dean of FGSR may consider an applicant who holds a degree(s) from an institution where English is not the primary language of instruction but who has demonstrated English language proficiency through one or more of the following:

- Successful completion of a subsequent certificate, diploma, or equivalent credential from an academic institution recognized by the University of Alberta, where the language of instruction is English.
- Attainment of a professional certification/designation from a recognized/accredited organization that requires its own demonstration of English language proficiency.

<td>The first grouping of objectives focuses on the “remedial” actions mandated by the Calls to Action issued by the National Truth and Reconciliation (TRC) report and broader Indigenization efforts. This grouping aims to remediate the erasure and exclusion of Indigenous knowledge, histories and knowledge systems. The work recognizes the gaps in traditional Western higher education and also the harm that those gaps have had on the lived experiences of Indigenous peoples. Implicit in this work is the acknowledgement that the university participated, and participates, in aspects of colonialism that were, and are, deeply harmful to Indigenous peoples and that there is a wrong to right. The same power that was employed to disenfranchise Indigenous peoples can now be brought to bear on the education of the students we serve and those beyond the institution.</td>

The Affirmation for Action on Indigenous Initiatives at the University of Alberta

Following the lengthy stakeholder consultations informing For the Public Good in 2016 and the Strategic Plan for Equity, Diversity and Inclusivity in 2019, the University of Alberta made broad and powerful commitments to Indigenous post-secondary education, research and engagement, and to ensuring a response to the Calls to Action issued by the National Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC) of Canada.

This affirmation aims to serve as the university’s visible commitment to respond to the TRC’s Calls to Action and to broader Indigenization efforts—work which remains urgent.

The calls are the heart of the work to address the systemic barriers that limit full Indigenous participation in the offerings of the university—historic and contemporary barriers that have artificially prevented Indigenous peoples from achieving greater individual and collective sovereignty.

In recognizing the great power of education, the TRC noted that universities have a particular responsibility, ability and opportunity to support the reconciliation process through enacting curricular changes that correct the historic record, incorporating reconciliation learning, increasing Indigenous representation in professions, and eliminating educational and employment gaps for Indigenous peoples. This document also reaffirms the university’s commitment to engage with Indigenous Ways of Knowing in order to acknowledge the deliberate erasure and exclusion of Indigenous knowledge systems. The same power that was employed to disenfranchise Indigenous peoples can now be brought to bear on the education of the students we serve and those beyond the institution.

The U of A acknowledges that Indigenization is an institutional journey that will likely take generations to address—and that only intentional, conscientious, systemic changes can move the institution closer to these critical goals.

In the spirit of these understandings—and with an acknowledgement that the work to Indigenize the institution touches on every academic, administrative and operational aspect of the university—we, as signatories, affirm our commitment as individuals, as educators, as researchers, as administrators and as leaders to acting on Indigenous Initiatives within our units and across the institution.

<td>Executive Summary (outline the specific item – and remember your audience)</td>
<td>Facilitating opportunities for interdisciplinary studies is one of the objectives of the University of Alberta’s strategic plan and is a topic of great interest to the Office of the Provost, the Office of the Registrar and the University of Alberta Students’ Union. We have been working collaboratively to create concrete action that will support interdisciplinarity and have found that one of the main challenges to interdisciplinarity is that many students hesitate to explore elective classes outside of their field of study for fear of risking their GPA. One way to encourage students to explore new fields of study is to eliminate that risk to their GPA by allowing them to request certain open elective courses be approved as exploration credits. Similar programs have been adopted to varying degrees across other U15 institutions in Canada. When a course has been approved as an exploration credit, the letter grade that the student receives at the end of the course would be converted into a corresponding credit (CR) or no-credit (NC) notation on their transcript. This CR/NC notation for exploration credits would follow the regulations already in place for CR/NC notation at the U of A, most notably that it will not be included as part of the student’s GPA calculation. These exploration credits have several eligibility requirements and/or restrictions including:</td>

A comprehensive communication strategy will be developed upon approval to ensure that students, staff and faculty are aware that this optional grading policy exists, and the benefits and risks that could come with it.

The planned implementation date for this Exploration Credits policy is Fall Term 2022.

As this policy will include new deadlines, a separate motion to add these deadlines to the Academic Schedule will also be presented to GFC when this proposal is sent for final approval. The proposed changes to the Academic Schedule have been included here for information.

Exploration Credits

In order to explore interdisciplinarity without risking potential negative impact to their GPA, undergraduate students may request to receive exploration credits for a limited number of open elective courses.

When a student requests and is approved for an exploration credit, the letter grade they receive in the approved course will be replaced with a credit/no-credit (CR/NC) notation on their transcript.

Regulations and procedures specific to exploration credits do not apply to other courses that are normally graded as credit/no-credit or pass/fail. For more information on grades, see Evaluation Procedures and Grading System.

For more information, including frequently asked questions, see Exploration Credits on the Office of the Registrar web page.

Eligibility

Undergraduate students in a 4-year degree program or a 5-year combined degree program may receive a maximum of 12 units of exploration credits. This 12-unit maximum is per student and does not reset if a student transfers to a different degree program.

Students may take a maximum of 3 units of exploration credits per term, and a maximum of 6 units of exploration credits per academic year.

For the purpose of eligibility for exploration credits, an open elective is defined as a course that a student must take to complete program requirements where a course designator or a specific subject area is not listed (e.g., free electives, open electives, courses from a specific faculty, courses at a 100-level, etc.).

Normally, exploration credits cannot be used for program requirements where a course designator or a specific subject area is listed. In some cases, a faculty may designate program requirements that are not open electives to be eligible for exploration credits.

The following categories of students are not eligible for exploration credits:
- Students on academic probation
- Students registered in an Open Studies program
- Graduate students

Additional restrictions on which programs or courses are eligible for exploration credits may also be approved by faculties.

For more information on course and program eligibility, see Exploration Credits on the Office of the Registrar web page.

Procedures for Exploration Credits
Students can submit their request for exploration credits in Bear Tracks. The deadlines to apply for exploration credits can be found in the Academic Schedule.

During the course, instructors will not be informed as to which type of grading notation each student will receive. Students who have requested to receive exploration credits will be required to complete the same course components and assessments as students who are being assessed a letter grade.

The conversion of letter grades to CR/NC notation will happen after the letter grades are grades assigned. Grades of D or higher will receive the Credit (CR) notation on the student’s transcript. Grades of F will receive the No-Credit (NC) notation.

Courses with CR notation will count towards total units completed. Courses with NC notation will count as units failed. CR/NC notations do not have a GPA and are not included in any GPA calculation. Additional information regarding CR/NC grades can be found in Evaluation Procedures and Grading System.

Once letter grades have been converted, only the CR/NC notation will appear on the student’s transcript. An open elective that has been approved as an exploration credit and assigned CR/NC notation on the student’s transcript cannot be changed back to a letter grade in the future.

Students who have passed a course (whether graded or CR/NC) may not repeat it. Students who have failed a course once (whether graded or CR/NC), may request CR/NC notation for their second attempt. Exceptions to the above and additional information can be found in the University’s Regulations on Reregistration in Courses.

Requesting or receiving approval for exploration credits will not change the tuition or fees associated with the course.

Student Responsibility and Future Impact
When requesting exploration credits, it is the student’s responsibility to ensure the following conditions are met:
- Their program is eligible for exploration credits
- The course is eligible for exploration credits
- The course is an open elective for their program. Alternatively, if it is not an open elective, it has been approved for exploration credits by the faculty.

GFC Executive Committee holds delegated authority from GFC to make recommendations on changes to procedures. With the support of ad hoc Governance Procedural Review Committee, GFC Executive Committee conducted a review of the GFC Guiding Documents in Spring, 2021 and recommended approval of proposed changes on October 4, 2022. Upon receipt of substantive proposed amendments from members of GFC, the Executive Committee reviewed their proposal at their January 10 and February 14, 2022 meetings. In addition, GFC discussed the proposal and the amendments submitted at the January 31, 2022 meeting. GFC Executive Committee is now asked to rescind their October 4, 2021 decision and recommend that GFC approve an amended proposal that includes additional changes to:

Introduction
Governance at the University of Alberta relies upon a structure wherein the General Faculties Council has delegated many of its provincially-mandated authorities to its standing committees. As such, the composition of those standing committees is crucial to ensuring that decisions are made in an informed manner that takes into account the breadth of issues, perspectives and opinions on campus. The following principles provide a framework to create committee compositions which are reflective of the membership of GFC and appropriate to the role and mandate of those committees.

Principles

1. Standing Committees should be populated with a commitment to diversity and broad representation from across the university.

2. Wherever possible, the majority of elected members of each standing committee should be drawn from the membership of GFC to provide tangible links between GFC and its standing committees and increase engagement of the greater GFC community.

3. Wherever possible, the number of elected members of a standing committee should exceed the number of ex-officio members.

4. The voting status of ex-officio members of standing committees should be consistent with their voting status on GFC and should extend to their delegates.

5. Ex-officio members should be included in the membership of a standing committee only when their portfolio is directly relevant to the mandate and role of the standing committee.

6. Wherever possible, the Vice-Chair of a standing committee should be elected by the committee from its elected academic staff members and ideally be a member of GFC.

7. Standing Committees should be populated with a commitment to diversity and broad representation from across the university.

7. When cross-appointment of members on standing committees is appropriate, this should be outlined in the terms of reference of each committee and such members shall have voting status on both committees.

Principles for General Faculties Council Delegation of Authority

Introduction
Governance is understood as the process through which an organization defines and achieves its mandate, which includes making decisions with regard to the structures, policies, and practices of decision-making; the exercise of authority; and the mechanisms of accountability. General Faculties Council (GFC) has employed a structure that relies upon the delegation of its provincially-mandated authorities to its standing committees, individuals on campus and other campus bodies. Delegation is essential to ensure timely and efficient decision-making in smaller forums with access to appropriate resource people, while allowing GFC to focus on substantive and strategic issues of broad relevance to the university community. The following offers guidance to this delegation structure and helps maintain accountability, transparency, and collegiality in the academic governance system at the University of Alberta.

Retained Authority
General Faculties Council shall pursue major policy and strategic issues that include:
- significant strategic and policy issues related to the academic affairs of the university;
- any matter involving the alteration of the mandate, terms of reference, membership, or structure of a GFC standing committee; and
- those matters that a standing committee, body, or officer holding delegated authority from GFC considers to be of major strategic significance or long-term impact on the university.

Principles
1. Delegations of authority must be reasonable in scope and appropriate to the character and capacity of the body (e.g. council or committee) or officer receiving the delegated authority.

2. An officer or body acting with delegated authority is accountable to the body which delegated the authority and must report to that body in a timely and sufficiently detailed fashion on actions taken under the delegated authority.

3. An officer or body is responsible to be alert to situations where, for example, there is uncertainty as to whether an item falls within the intended delegation or the significance of an issue and the division of opinion on the issue suggest it is prudent to refer the issue or decision to the delegating body for consideration. When there is uncertainty as to whether an item falls within the intended delegated authority, or if there is clear division of opinion, the officer or body with delegated authority will refer the item to the body that delegated the authority along with a recommendation.

4. Delegations should be recorded in written form and curated in a transparent manner.
5. A body delegating authority may impose restrictions on that authority -- including restrictions on the authority to sub-delegate -- so long as the restrictions allow sufficient authority for the delegation to be meaningful.

6. All delegations of authority should be reviewed at regular intervals (ideally once every three years) to ensure they remain appropriate.

7. Withdrawal of delegated authority should be considered judiciously based on the best interest of the institution and cannot be done retroactively.

8. An officer or body is not compelled to exercise delegations. The fact that a delegation is held does not oblige the officer or body to exercise the delegation if, in the opinion of the delegate, some special or unusual circumstances are involved which make it sensible that the issue should receive consideration at a more senior level.

Introduction

General Faculties Council (GFC) is the principal academic decision-making body of the university. It is established in the Post-Secondary Learning Act (PSLA) and given authority, subject to the Board of Governors, over the academic affairs of the university.

For GFC to be successful in fulfilling its terms of reference and meeting its responsibilities to the university it depends on the active engagement of its members. GFC has delegated much of its authority for routine matters to standing committees allowing GFC to engage in high level strategic and stewardship policy issues. GFC members have the opportunity to serve on the standing committees that approve matters with the delegated authority from GFC.

GFC operates under the principle of collegial academic governance including:

- A commitment to supporting Indigenous Initiatives and the University of Alberta’s response to the Truth and Reconciliation Commission’s Calls to Action
- A commitment to advancing equity, diversity and inclusion through dedicated resources, strong leadership and by ensuring the work is resourced and distributed fairly
- A commitment to equitable, inclusive and participatory governance decision-making
- A desire to facilitate meaningful individual-level engagement in governance processes
- A commitment to openness, transparency, and respectful communication
- A commitment to responsiveness, respect, and reciprocity between governing bodies and between governing bodies and university administration
- A commitment that, regardless of their membership category, all members of GFC are afforded the same rights to participate within the body
- A commitment to listening to, and being respectful of, a multiplicity of perspectives, lived experiences and the overall complexity of diversity within the University.

Roles and Responsibilities of Members

1. Understand GFC
   1.1 Members should understand that not all matters under GFC jurisdiction will come before that body for approval. Some decisions are made at the standing committee level as GFC has delegated authority to approve and report on actions taken on certain matters.

   1.2 The university operates in a bicameral governance system. Members should understand the distinction between the role and responsibilities of GFC and the Board of Governors.

2. Meeting Attendance
   2.1 Members have a responsibility to attend GFC meetings.
a. If a student misses two consecutive meetings, or more than three meetings in one academic year, the Students’ Union or the Graduate Students’ Association may request that the Chair declare the position vacant.

b. If a Faculty representative or a non-student member misses two consecutive meetings or more than three meetings in one academic year without a reason satisfactory to the members of the GFC Executive Committee, the Executive Committee shall declare the position vacant.

2.2 Members have a responsibility to serve on GFC committees as appropriate and attend committee meetings.

a. If an elected member is absent from three consecutive meetings or is frequently absent without a reason satisfactory to the remaining members of the committee, the Chair shall declare the position vacant.

2.3 Members should advise the GFC Secretary or committee coordinator if they are unable to attend a meeting.

3. Participate in GFC Business

3.1 Members should prepare for meetings by reviewing agenda materials in advance that, for open sessions, are publicly available at ualberta.ca/governance.

3.2 Members should engage in candid and respectful discussion of matters which are brought before GFC and its various bodies.

3.3 When voting on motions:

a. Members must act in good faith with the view to the best interests of the university as a whole. While members may be informed by matters raised by various constituencies, it is the duty of a member to ensure that all constituencies are fairly considered in the process of decision making.

b. When notified of an e-vote, members should vote in a timely manner in order to ensure that quorum requirements are met.

4. Manage Conflict of Interest and Act Ethically

4.1 Comply with the university’s policies and procedures regarding both ethical conduct and conflict of interest. Members must declare conflicts when they arise.

4.2 Maintain confidentiality of all information included in closed session meetings.

5. Ask Questions

5.1 Information requests may be made of the University Governance office, should members require more information than is provided with the meeting agenda.

5.2 If a member wishes to raise a question at GFC within the jurisdiction of the body, a question may be submitted in writing to the GFC Secretary up to six working days before the next GFC meeting to receive a written response. (See GFC Meeting Procedural Rules 5.2).

5.3 Every GFC meeting has Question Period as a standing item wherein members may raise a question during the time set aside for this item. Procedures for Question Period are available at ualberta.ca/governance
5.4 If a member has a question with regard to an item on the agenda, it may-should be raised during consideration of that item at the GFC meeting.

5.5 If a member wishes to add an item to the agenda for debate, the member should contact the Chair or GFC Secretary for assistance.

6. Communicate Information to Constituents
   6.1 Members should communicate with their Faculty or constituency regarding agenda items coming before GFC.

   6.2 Members should communicate with their Faculty or constituency on matters which were discussed/approved at GFC in Open Session.

7. Participation in Renewal of GFC
   7.1 Members of GFC shall support the renewal of membership by encouraging individuals to put their names forward for election in their respective constituencies, and being purposeful in reaching out to members of Indigenous and other equity-deserving groups.

Meeting Procedural Rules

Introduction

General Faculties Council (GFC) has on many occasions confirmed its commitment to having a set of rules that assist rather than impede the conduct of business. GFC rules are not meant to unduly restrict debate or limit opportunities for participation. Their purpose is to facilitate inclusive and respectful dialogue, while ensuring efficient decision-making. It is the responsibility of the Chair, with the support of GFC, to employ the rules governing general meetings in a manner consistent with these principles. Substantive motions should be handled with considerable formality, but whenever possible the Chair should deal with matters of procedure by general agreement.

The following rules and procedures are based on a number of fundamental principles that encourage participation and engagement of members. These principles include:

- A commitment to inclusive and participatory decision-making.
- A commitment to openness, transparency and respectful communication.

In addition, members of GFC will adhere to the principles of collegial academic governance as set out in the GFC Roles and Responsibilities of Members document.

1. Procedural Rules

   1.1 GFC and its standing committees are governed by the procedural rules set out below. For matters not covered by these rules, or by the Post Secondary Learning Act (PSLA) reference shall be made to the current edition of Robert's Rules of Order. If this does not provide clear direction regarding a point in question, then the Chair shall decide how to proceed. However, such rulings by the Chair may be overruled via a motion to appeal the decision of the Chair when seconded and supported by a majority of votes cast.

   1.2 The chairs of GFC and its standing committees will be responsible for guiding meetings of GFC and its standing committees, enforcing rules, and deciding questions pertaining to those rules. Any decisions of the chair are subject to challenge (see 40.3).

   1.3 The Chair will not participate actively in debate regarding a motion before GFC without passing the role of the Chair to the Vice-Chair for the duration of the debate and the subsequent vote.

2. Meetings

   2.1 GFC and its standing committees shall meet regularly during the academic year, the schedule of which will be published on the governance website at least one month before the beginning of each academic year. GFC meetings will not be scheduled during the periods set aside for final examinations or Reading Weeks, however committee meetings may occur during this time.

   2.2 Cancellation - GFC Executive Committee may cancel a meeting of GFC if it determines that the number and nature of the agenda items make it reasonable to defer consideration, and provided that notice of such cancellation is given to members at least one week prior to the date of the meeting. The Chair of a GFC standing committee may cancel a meeting if the agenda items make it reasonable to defer consideration, and provided that notice of such cancellation is given to members as early as possible.

2.3 From time to time, the Chair of GFC may call special meetings of GFC, provided that notice of such meetings is given to members at least one month in advance. If required, an electronic vote may be used to approve the waiver of the one-month notice. A two-thirds majority of votes cast is required for approval via electronic voting.

2.4 GFC meetings shall normally be scheduled and planned to end two hours after being called to order. Meetings may be extended by a majority of votes cast.

2.5 Debate on new items of business will not be entertained after GFC has been sitting for three hours.

2.6 No audio or video recording of meetings shall be permitted unless by express authority of the Chair.

3. Open Sessions

3.1 Meetings of GFC and its standing committees are normally held in open session, with the exception of those dealing with nominations and adjudication which are always held in closed session.

3.2 Subject to the limitations of space and orderly conduct as determined by the chair, members of the university community and the general public may attend open meetings as observers. Observers may only speak if expressly invited to do so by the Chair.

4. Closed Sessions

4.1 From time to time, GFC or its committees may hold meetings or portions of meetings as closed meetings; at that point, proceedings will be confidential and all non-members, except those specifically invited, will be asked to withdraw.

5. Questions

5.1 If more information than is provided as part of the meeting agenda is required, information requests may be made of the University Governance office.

5.2 Questions on an issue within GFC’s jurisdiction may be submitted in writing to the GFC Secretary up to six working days before the next GFC meeting to receive a written response, by the appropriate officer(s) of the University. If the officer considers that a question is not factual, contains argument or opinion or facts other than those necessary for explanation of the question, or is outside the scope of GFC responsibilities, or that an excessive amount of time, effort, expenditure and/or resources will be required to provide an answer, the GFC Secretary shall return the question to the questioner and work with the questioner to narrow the scope of the question.

5.3 Every GFC meeting has Question Period as a standing item wherein members may raise a question during the time set aside for this item (see 6.5). Procedures for Question Period are available at ualberta.ca/governance
5.4 Questions with regard to a specific item on an agenda may be raised during consideration of that item at the GFC meeting.

6. Agendas

6.1 The agenda of each GFC meeting will be proposed by the GFC Executive Committee and approved by GFC. The GFC Executive Committee will ensure that items put before GFC are complete and ready for discussion and published in advance of the meeting.

6.2 If GFC members want to have an issue debated, they are asked to submit the issue to the GFC Executive Committee. Whenever possible, members wishing to add items to the agenda should contact the Chair or GFC Secretary two working days in advance of the GFC Executive Committee meeting to allow time for discussion on whether the item is complete and ready to be added to the agenda.

6.3 Should a member wish to add an item to the agenda at a meeting of GFC, a two-thirds majority of votes cast is required; the Chair will then determine where the item appears on the agenda. In cases where the Chair or GFC Secretary has been informed in advance of a planned request to add a new item, but after the agenda has been published, the proposal shall be circulated to members through the normal means.

6.4 When the Agenda is being approved, the Chair will entertain a request to change the order of items, for specified reasons.

6.5 Each agenda of GFC and its standing committees will include Question Period of one half hour in length that may be extended with the approval of members.

   a. Question period is comprised of both written questions and, time permitting, questions from the floor.
   b. The Chair will rule on whether a question from the floor can be answered expeditiously; if not, it will be referred to the appropriate officer for response at the next meeting.
   c. No debate is to be permitted of either the question or the response. Members who have submitted questions will be permitted to ask one or more supplementary questions, after which other members of GFC will have the same opportunity.

6.6 Reports from standing committees are included on the GFC agenda for information only. Questions may be asked for clarification, but no debate may take place on such items.

6.7 Reports for Information may be moved to the discussion part of the agenda if a member gives two working days notice to the GFC Secretary to ensure that an appropriate person is present to answer questions that may arise during discussion.

6.8 Agendas and materials for open session meetings are posted at ualberta.ca/governance

7. Quorum
7.1 General Faculties Council - The quorum for a GFC meeting is one-third of the total membership, except in the months of May through August when the quorum shall be one-quarter of the total membership.

7.2 GFC Standing Committees – The quorum for standing committee meetings is one-half of the voting members or, in the case where this is an even number, one-half plus 1 member.

7.3 Vacancies on GFC and on GFC standing committees are not included when establishing quorum.

7.4 Maintaining quorum - A duly-called meeting which starts with a quorum present shall be deemed to have a continuing quorum, notwithstanding the departure of voting members, unless the quorum is challenged by a voting member. In the event of a challenge, the remaining members may choose to adjourn or continue the meeting. In the event of a decision to continue a meeting without quorum, the minutes shall record this fact and any decisions taken must be ratified at the next meeting.

8. Motions
8.1 Normally, all motions concerning substantive matters shall be published in the agenda materials.

8.2 All motions must be moved and seconded by members of GFC. Motions to appoint new members may only be moved and seconded by statutory members of GFC.

8.3 Motions pass with a majority of votes cast, except for the following: (1) motions to add an item to the agenda and to close debate/call the question require a two-thirds majority of votes cast; (2) motions to rescind a motion require a two-thirds majority of total members if no Notice of Motion was given.

8.4 To make a motion, a member must be recognized by the Chair. (In the interest of clarity and to expedite business, it is advisable to provide a written motion to the GFC Secretary). A two-thirds majority of votes cast will be required to add a motion concerning substantive matters to the agenda as per 8.1 and 8.3. The person making a motion will be invited by the Chair to speak first in any ensuing debate.

8.5 Amendments to Motions - A member may make a motion to amend the wording – and within certain limits the meaning – of a pending motion before the pending motion itself is voted upon. The amendment must be germane and cannot be used to introduce a new subject. An amendment is debatable.

8.6 Motion to Adjourn - A motion to adjourn is a motion to close the meeting. It must be seconded, is not debatable or amendable, and typically requires a simple majority of votes cast. During the months of March and April, motions to adjourn require a two-thirds majority of votes cast if substantive items of business remain on the agenda.

8.7 During the course of a GFC meeting, members may make a Notice of Motion for debate at the next GFC meeting. In such cases GFC Executive will be responsible for placement of the motion on the next GFC agenda.

9. Motions for Specific Purposes
9.1 Motion to Table – Enables the pending question to be laid aside until some future time. The motion cannot be debated. The mover may make a statement regarding what information they believe would be required to remove the item from the table, and the proposer of the item may make a brief comment on the impact of tabling the motion.

9.2 Motion to Take From the Table – Brings the motion back before GFC and cannot be debated.

9.3 Motion to Reconsider an item which was voted upon at the current or the last meeting. The motion is debatable and if passed, proceedings are restored to the point immediately prior to the vote to which it applies.

9.4 Motion to Rescind a Motion is only used when a Motion to Reconsider is out of time. Motions to Rescind are debatable, require support of two-thirds of the total membership if no Notice of Motion was given in the meeting materials, but only a simple majority of votes cast if Notice was given.

10. Debate

10.1 A list of speakers will be kept by the Chair and/or Secretary. Normally, a member may not speak for a second time until the Chair is satisfied that all members wishing to speak for their first time have done so.

10.2 A member who has the floor may not normally be interrupted. However, the Chair may interrupt a speaker if the speaker is out of order by using unacceptable language, is abusive of other members, or is not speaking to the motion. If the Chair does not do so, a member may raise this as a point of order. The Chair may raise the speaker’s attention to the time if they have had the floor for more than three minutes.

10.3 Point of Order - It is the right of any member who notices a breach of the rules of Council-GFC to insist on their enforcement. If the Chair fails to notice such a breach, any member may make the appropriate Point of Order, calling on the Chair for a ruling. A Point of Order does not require a seconder, it is not debatable or amendable, and cannot be reconsidered.

10.4 Calling the Question - Upon hearing a member call the question, the Chair will ask members if they are ready to vote on the motion being discussed. If there appears to be opposition to closing the debate, the Chair may ask for a motion to close debate. If seconded, members will then vote on this motion, which will require a two-thirds majority of votes cast, and proceed accordingly.

11. Debates without Motions

11.1 When discussion of an issue and the formal rules pertaining to making motions, debate, and voting seem to be a hindrance to thoughtful discussion, the GFC agenda can allow for a less structured discussion guided by the Chair and the consensus of the members in attendance.

12. Attendance Delegates

12.1 Delegates – members Members who serve on GFC or its standing committees by virtue of their office may send a delegate; such delegates shall act with all the rights of membership. There shall be no alternates for other members.
12.2 GFC attendance - If a student misses two consecutive meetings or more than three meetings, the Students’ Union or the Graduate Students’ Association may request that the Chair declare the position vacant. If a faculty representative or a non-student appointed member misses two consecutive meetings or more than three meetings in one academic year without a reason satisfactory to the members of the GFC Executive Committee, the Executive Committee may declare the position vacant.

12.3 Standing committee attendance - If an elected member is absent from three consecutive meetings or is frequently absent without a reason satisfactory to the remaining members of the Committee, the Chair shall declare the position vacant.

13. Voting

13.1 All members of GFC are charged with the responsibility of examining issues before Council and voting as they judge fit on such issues. No member of GFC, regardless of how that person gains membership on Council, is an instructed delegate.

13.2 Motions shall normally be adopted on a simple majority of members present except to add items to the agenda which requires a two-thirds majority of those present, or for a Motion to Rescind which requires a two-thirds majority vote of total membership.

13.3 An abstention is not considered to be a vote cast.

13.4 The Chair votes only in the instance of a tie. When there is a tie vote, the motion is lost if the Chair abstains.

13.5 All members may participate in discussions; only voting members may move, second and vote on motions.

13.6 Electronic Votes by Committees – In cases where extensive deliberation is not essential to determining a course of action and it is necessary for a business item to be decided before the next scheduled meeting, the Chair and Secretary of a GFC standing committee may hold an electronic vote. The motion will be duly moved and seconded, quorum must be met, and all normal procedures will be followed in conducting the e-mail ballot. However, upon receiving the item of business and ballot, any committee member may request that the matter be debated at the next meeting or at a special meeting and the vote delayed until after that debate, with the Chair determining the appropriate course of action.

13.7 Electronic Votes by GFC – In cases where GFC is the electing body to populate certain selection committees and other bodies, the election process may use e-vote mechanisms.

13.8 Electronic Approval of Committee Reports by GFC – Reports of recommendations from the Nominating and Replenishment Committees may be distributed electronically to GFC members and are considered approved if no additional nominations are received by the deadlines indicated on the report subject to receipt of additional nominations.
13.8 Electronic Votes by GFC in Remote Meetings – When meeting remotely, GFC will vote on motions either using a platform made available for this purpose, or by using the features within the remote meeting platform.

14. Records of Proceedings
14.1 Official Record – The official record of meetings of GFC shall be the minutes taken by the Secretary and approved by GFC.

14.2 Minutes – The minutes shall reflect the decisions made and reasons for the decisions a high-level summary of the discussion.

15. Amendment of these Rules and Procedures
Rules and procedures governing meetings of General Faculties Council’s Meeting Procedural Rules may be amended by a majority of votes cast at a duly constituted meeting of GFC, provided that notice of the proposed amendment has been given in the meeting materials, and that a quorum is present at the time the vote is taken. Rules are reviewed every three years.

Question Period Procedure

General Faculties Council has approved the practice of a Question Period of one half hour in length, which is a regular standing item on the Agenda of each regular meeting of General Faculties Council.

Written questions may be submitted to the Secretary at any time before a GFC meeting. If a written response is required, then written questions must be received at least SIX working days before a GFC meeting. The questions should contain no argument or opinion or facts other than those necessary for explanation.

The administration will make every attempt to submit written responses to University Governance in time for mailing to GFC members (normally by the Thursday before a Monday GFC meeting).

Supplementary questions may be asked during the Question Period providing they relate to the subject matter of the question under discussion.

The answer should contain no argument or opinion or fact other than those necessary for explanation. The answer is not debatable.

After written questions and replies have been received by Council, questions from the floor will be permitted. The total time for Question Period is 30 minutes, unless Council, at the end of that time, votes to extend. If GFC members want to have an issue debated, they are asked to submit the issue to the Executive Committee.

Questions may be submitted in writing in advance of GFC meetings. In such cases, the Secretary will direct it to the appropriate officer(s) of the University for a reply. Questions must be factual in nature and contain no argument. (GFC 24 FEB 2003)

If the recipient considers that a question is not factual, contains argument or opinion or facts other than those necessary for explanation of the question, or is outside the scope of GFC responsibilities, or that an excessive amount of time, effort, expenditure and/or resources will be required to provide an answer, the recipient shall return the question to the questioner and work with the questioner to narrow the scope of the question. (GFC 24 FEB 2003)

In cases of dispute between the recipient and questioner, or where no agreement can be reached, the recipient or questioner may refer the question to the GFC Executive Committee for a ruling on whether the question is proper. If the Executive Committee deems that the question is not proper, the question will not be answered – the Executive Committee’s decision is final and binding. (GFC 24 FEB 2003)

Where a question is submitted from the floor during the Question Period, the Chair will rule on whether or not it can be answered expeditiously from the floor. If it cannot, the question will then be referred to the appropriate officer as if it were a written question. (GFC 24 FEB 2003)
In order to provide more time for Administration to submit an answer, the Secretary to GFC will:

1. Mail the answer to GFC members if the Secretary to GFC receives it in time for the mailing.

2. If the Secretary to GFC receives the answer after the mailing but before the GFC meeting, the Secretary will set the answer out on the tables at the meeting and e-mail it to members prior to the meeting.

<td>Greater precision in wording needed: All rulings of the chair, not just those dependent upon a reading of the PSLA or Robert’s Rules, are open to challenge.</td>
<td>This is true and stated in 1.2 &quot;Any decisions of the chair are subject to challenge.&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.3</td>
<td>I would also consider offering advice that &quot;the Chair should participate in the debate (after relinquishing the chair) if the discussion involves a subject that will be further considered by the Board&quot; because this is one of the issues that we faced in December. The role of the chair is critical in our bicameral governance framework and chair should not be silent when they have to represent the GFC downstream to the Board.</td>
<td>The Exec ad hoc Committee did discuss the need for additional language to describe when the chair should leave their role, however, the PSLA is clear on this matter and states that recommendations by GFC are transmitted by the President to the Board. The matter has also been raised by members of GFC Executive at their joint meetings with the Board Governance Committee.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.3</td>
<td>In relation to recent events this rule needs to be more comprehensive: It needs to state that the Chair has the obligation to come out of the chair when they have information or a position on matter being debated. Robert’s Rules explicitly states that the Chair’s obligation to provide this information or perspective “outweighs [their] duty to preside,” and sets out the protocols for such an eventuality. Rule 1.3 needs to state this and either provide the protocols (see §43, p. 395 of the eleventh edition or the relevant section in the twelfth edition) or needs to refer GFC members to those protocols. GFC could of course establish a variant of the Robert’s Rules protocols if it wishes. If the Provost is not formally designated as the “Vice-Chair” of GFC, the wording here should refer specifically to the Provost, another Vice-President, or a Dean.</td>

<tr>
<td>2.1</td>
<td>Note that this rule has been recently breached, which begs the question: How are breaches of the rules to be dealt with? By whom? GFC needs to have the opportunity to set a new rule for how breaches of governance rules are to be handled.</td>
<td>The conflict between the meeting on April 26th and the final exam schedule was a result of the extraordinary change to the academic schedule to lengthen the winter break. The rules also lay out the ability for members to call a point of order if they notice at breach under 10.3.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.1</td>
<td>In section 2.1 - it says reading week (singular) but we have two now.</td>
<td>Updated</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.3/7</td>
<td>I think the changes are a great improvement in general and the switch to a majority of those voting is great. However, I note for 2.3 there is a lack of clarity in what the majority is of. Since this is an electronic vote outside a meeting I presume the intention is that it is two thirds of those voting. Shouldn’t there also be some quorum rule on the numbers of votes too because it happens outside a meeting so the established quorum rules for meetings in section 7 don’t automatically apply?</td>
<td>Updated, &quot;votes cast&quot;</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.3</td>
<td>Why two thirds requirement for e-vote for waiving one-month notice, compared to simple majority or no vote (Chair decision to add a special meeting)? Why not just change to notice to 2 weeks instead of one month?</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>---</td>
<td>---</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.3</td>
<td>This new rule needs to be more specific: What is intended? Electronic votes at meetings of GFC? Between meetings of GFC? Both? If the latter, how long is the voting period? No rationale is provided for why this would need to be a two-thirds majority vote. Why is it not a simple majority? The rule also needs to be supplemented. GFC members always have the authority to adjourn a meeting to another date and time. Our rules should state this so that we cannot have the kind of confusion that results in the use of a standard rule for democratic meetings being denounced as “shenanigans.”</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.4</td>
<td>Why has “normally” been deleted?: We have seen a fair bit of abuse around this rule. The word “normally” is used to provide important latitude — in this case, to GFC Executive as the body that approves a provisional agenda for GFC’s meeting. It could be argued, however, that it’s the norm that is the problem. A two-hour meeting, as we have regularly seen, is not adequate. The rule should be changed, then, but not to eradicate the “normally,” but to change the norm to three hours. It is far better to have GFC members putting a 3-hour meeting into their agendas, and then discovering that they have extra time when a meeting is adjourned early, rather than the reverse.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.5</td>
<td>Why is this rule still in place? What interests is this rule serving? If GFC votes to extend a meeting beyond the 3-hour mark it should be able to do what it wishes with the extra time to which the body has agreed. We should, however, have a new rule that disallows the introduction of a new item after the time of adjournment, which is what happened at the 22 February 2021 meeting.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.6</td>
<td>Why is this rule still in place? We should not have a rule that is not consistent with law.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.1/3.2</td>
<td>This rule needs to be rewritten in two respects. First, it’s 2021, and we have technology at our disposal that did not exist when this rule was first written. From now on it should be a matter of course that meetings of GFC and the Board are livestreamed to permit as many people who wish to observe. Second, the reference to “ordnery conduct” needs to be carefully reframed to be consistent with the University’s freedom of expression statement passed in the Fall of 2019.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.2</td>
<td>This rule needs to be consistent with 3.1. 3.1 limits the use of closed sessions to “those dealing with nominations and adjudication.” Here the wording is loose. If it is being suggested that there are other reasons for a closed or in camera meeting of either GFC or any of its committees, this needs to be clarified. And if that is the case, this section should assert a principle consistent with the “Roles and Responsibilities” document, namely, that there is “a commitment to openness [and] transparency.”</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.1</td>
<td>We also need a new rule in the section. I have raised this concern in the past. The minutes for closed sessions should be made available after a certain period of time, with names redacted in the case of closed sessions for “nominations and adjudication.” We are a public university, and for openness and transparency it must be declared what topics have been taken up in closed sessions. This suggestion is of course moot if closed sessions are only ever to be used for nominations and adjudications.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4.2</td>
<td>If eliminating the GFC Question Period Procedure supports more open environment for members discussion, I would support it.</td>

The rule concerns special meetings, not adjournment of regular meetings to another date and time. The electronic vote would be used to determine if a two-thirds majority of members agreed to meet with less than one-month’s notice. Asking for a two-thirds majority will allow for assurance that members agree that waiving notice is appropriate. The proposed deletion of “normally” was removed and language was added to specify that meetings may be extended by GFC. Rule 2.1 also notes that GFC members will be informed one month ahead of the academic year of the GFC schedule via the governance website. Concerning 2.5, the rule does align with historic practice. It has been in place since 1974. This practice also aligns with principles of equity because after three hours, participation in the meeting will be more difficult for members with family or other responsibilities. Photographs, video and audio recordings are “records” as defined in section 1(q) of the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (the “Act”). The information contained in photographs, video and audio recordings are considered “personal information” under section 1(n) because the pictures or sound would contain “recorded information” about an “identifiable individual”. GFC has decided not to allow audio/video recordings and complies with legislation in doing so. Live streaming of meetings is an operational decision led by the principles set out by GFC in the meeting procedural rules. We have not discussed limiting observation of GFC meetings and believe the language is consistent with the principles set out in the Freedom of Expression Statement. There is no intention to discontinue live streaming at this point in time. On 4.1, agree that this should not conflict with the commitment to openness and transparency. That is set out in the principles in the preamble to the document. Concerning 4.2, we have very rarely held meetings of GFC Committees in Closed sessions. In our recent past, we have always published the minutes from those sessions afterwards and would continue to advise that as best practice.

<td>&quot;If the recipient considers...&quot; is quite heavy-handed; it reads to me like an easy way to dismiss questions; furthermore, &quot;if an excessive amount of time...&quot; is a statement that cannot be objectively evaluated and reads even worse. In the end, this section basically precludes &quot;big questions&quot; and places anyone with a question at a disadvantage relative to the administrator/proponent of actions, since they can fairly easily to argue the question offers an opinion. Are we not supposed to offer opinions? I thought that most of the work we do is about our informed opinions and arguments, and how could one objectively establish that an argument is irrelevant to the matter at hand?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.2</td>
<td>On what grounds will recipients make their decisions? Will these decisions be explained? What constitutes an excessive amount of time, effort, expenditure and/or resources, especially in our current budgetary situation, and with decisions to bypass questions possibly affecting dozens/hundreds of UofA employees/students/stakeholders?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.2</td>
<td>I do not think the changes to Item#5.2 are conducive to effective governance. It should not be left to the discretion of the &quot;recipient&quot; to determine or evaluate the appropriateness of a question. Any question posed by a member of GFC should merit a fulsome response -- even if such a response requires significant effort. If there is a concern that superfluous questions are being posed, I would propose that 5.2 be modified to allow for the Chair to consult with the member to scope the question. But ultimately, any question within the scope of GFC's authority under the PSLA should merit a response, even if substantial (or &quot;excessive&quot;) effort is required. Anything less than this does not meet the spirit or substance of GFC's authority or responsibilities. I also believe that the proposed changes to 5.2 violate two of the opening principles of the Roles and Responsibilities document, namely: A commitment to openness, transparency, and respectful communication; and A commitment to responsiveness, respect, and reciprocity between governing bodies and between governing bodies and university administration. [1]</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.2</td>
<td>I think we should restrict this to just being outside of the scope of GFC. I am of the opinion that the references to resources, time, expenditure etc. should be left out. It is easy to determine whether a question is within scope and can be accepted or rejected. It is the responsibility of GFC to provide answers even if it takes a bit of time to delve into the matter and come up with such answers. After all, if transparency is the objective we should strive to provide answers and I feel that references to expenses/resource etc. will come back to create further issues with respect to the perception of a lack of collegial governance.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5.2</td>
<td>The added language seems predestined to lead to conflict, since many questions will inevitably express—whether explicitly or not—arguments or opinions and &quot;fact&quot; is likely a matter of opinion in itself. I completely understand the intent behind this language, but it seems engineered to thwart a small handful of individuals who have abused the question process this year. Does this language just make it an even larger issue than it deserves to be?</td>

This rule is not currently being adhered to, and should be rewritten to express what is actually desired. As it stands, Executive does not play a meaningful role in agenda setting. It has an agenda placed before it for its approval. This rule should be rewritten in such a way as to specify an active role for Executive in determining if and when items come to be proposed for GFC’s agenda. It should make clear Executive members’ ability to initiate the inclusion of agenda items.

GFC Executive approves a draft agenda which is then proposed to GFC but GFC is the ultimate approver of their own agenda. GFC Executive does discuss whether items are ready for GFC before approving the draft agenda.

The ad hoc Committee spent a great deal of time discussing these changes and brainstorming ways to ensure question period was effective as supported the principles of inclusive and participatory decision-making, while ensuring sufficient time for efficient decision-making. The committee debated eliminating the question period from the agenda, but felt that it was valuable and that by changing the order of the agenda to ensure there was time for question period, the need to require it be 30 minutes was alleviated. Concerning cases of dispute, the language was revised to have the Secretary work with the recipient and the questioner. The Question Period Procedure currently states that answers are not debatable, stemming from a GFC decision in 2003. In practice, there have been numerous occasions where discussion of answers took place on the floor of GFC. It is important to note that the language that has been added in these sections is current practice that is articulated in the GFC Question Period Procedure. In reality, every effort is made to answer questions received before GFC in writing, or on the floor to ensure transparency.

It is practice to have a question period on each standing committee agenda but it is a much more informal process

<td>The guideline of &quot;three minutes&quot; looks arbitrary and capricious to me; why not &quot;five&quot; minutes; why not &quot;ten minutes&quot;. I'd suggest picking a time that is obviously long, e.g., &quot;ten minutes&quot; OR reword the entire clause to indicate simply that speakers are &quot;encouraged&quot; to keep their comments to within ten minutes, and that they may be reminded of this time if deemed to be speaking excessively. Also, I don't know what the legal meaning of &quot;the Chair may raise the speaker's attention&quot; would be; this could be misused to discourage further commentary. The spirit of my own comment here, by the way, is that THREE minutes is WAY too short for anything of substance, and it will rush people; it could also be used to &quot;silence&quot; people who are making valid points but when those points are not &quot;popular&quot; or in accord, e.g., with administrators' wishes, and this could happen even without any malintent from anyone but simply because of human nature. So, overall, I'd reword this to encourage people to keep their points concise and within reasonable timeframes and leave it at that. If you need a time, I'll throw out ten minutes.</td>

Otherwise, we might want to consider including the heading “Debates without motions” instead of “Discussion Items” on our agendas, for consistency and clarity.</td>

<td>It appears that the proposed changes is removing the inputs of students from recommendations that the chair should declare a position vacant after some absence at the meeting during the year. Meanwhile, it appears this requirement is being waived for faculty or non-student member. This may not be seen as a move on equity on participation of members of the GFC. It may be nice to consider these questions: &quot;Are non-student member more highly esteemed than student members? Are we trying to encourage suggestions or participation from the Students’ Union or the Graduate Students’ Association, or are we trying to silence there voice in making recommendations on this? Even if graduate Students’ Association may not have the authority to singlehandedly declare a position as vacant without the approval of the chair, I do not think it is a bad advice to leave that avenue of communication open for more engagement between the chair and the student union/representatives in this manner.</td>

<td>What is the problem that the committee is seeking to fix under the revision of 12.2? I suggest there is no problem that needs to be fixed here — we simply have an antidemocratic rule that simply needs to be struck in its entirety. If, however, it is considered a problem that we do not always have the full complement of members present at every meeting of GFC, then the more democratic solution would be for elected members to be able to send delegates just as ex officio members can under 12.1.</td>

<td>General comment about voting: we really need to establish rules around votes and use better systems. For example, when we meet in Council Chambers, votes are confidential. We press a button, there's a tally. During the pandemic, we've had the terrible situation where our names and votes are displayed for all to see, which can only lead to grudges and discontent. Also, too often we've had to vote when the language of what we are voting on was vague at best or entirely absent from view. Putting it quickly into the Zoom chat is not sufficient. These need to be posted in definitive form (via a shared slide, perhaps?) so that it is 100% how one is voting and on what language. Even if this means it takes another minute to set up a vote, it would be time well spent. There are some really good and flexible voting systems out there on the market; can we please use one of them rather than Zoom's very dodgy voting tools or the cranky UofA local system that seems to have caused endless issues this year.</td>

There is a danger that the question period and also the discussion reserved to the ‘discussion items’ is dominated by few members despite a possibility now to limit the speaking time for 3 minutes. There is obviously no procedural rules of how the agenda is constructed (action, discussion, early consultation items). Should this be indicated in the rules?</td>

Some changes were made to make the language more inclusive and these suggestions will be brought forward for the 3-year review of the GFC Nominating Committee terms of reference and procedures.
I would replace any process of nomination that requires an individual to submit an application with the support of, or the names of, nominees. It is just an extra hurdle that seems to serve no purpose. Do the five names of nominees for putting one's name forward to serve on a committee add anything to the process? Perhaps a past practice where the time has come to evaluate why we do this. And more importantly, what if these nomination processes deter women and minorities from applying to serve, particularly when it would seem to suffice to have self-nomination (application). A check for eligibility can be done by administrative practice; that does not need nominees. I see no need for nominees when weighed against the overarching goal of encouraging more diversity in who serves.

Some changes were made to make the language more inclusive and these suggestions will be brought forward for the 3-year review of the GFC Nominating Committee terms of reference and procedures.

A good step forward!

Thank you for the time and effort in making these changes.

The changes were not discussed at the April 26th GFC meeting, nor did it seem to be an intention to discuss, according to the Agenda. The deadline for providing feedback should be extended; feedback should also be collated and shared with all GFC members, prior to any discussion of these revisions. The identity of the members submitting their feedback should be confidential, unless the members wish to waive that (on an individual basis). Given the current distrust and disillusionment with the role played by GFC and the overall collegial governance at the UofA, these revisions need to be treated as items of utmost importance.

Random points below:

* The Google form is not a very convenient way to get this type of feedback to you. Just mentioning it. It's a bit awkward to use and would seem to discourage detailed feedback.

* The timeline on this, like on many GFC-related items is way too short. On this note, it would be good to reconsider the timelines involved with GFC meetings, e.g., when meeting materials are made available in relation to a meeting itself.

* All feedback you get should be ANONYMIZED and shared so that everyone can see the key items flagged and contemplate them. This will help the assembly converge on a truly helpful revision of the rules and regulations, including appropriate revisions to address issues that have come up at recent GFC meetings.

* Consider a change in meeting rules to nominally have 3-hour meetings starting at 1 p.m. Why not? The meetings as presently conducted are extremely rushed, with very little time devoted to matters of substance. This makes the entire process look disingenuous.

* I assume nothing is final until revised versions are tabled, debated, further revised / amended, and voted upon at GFC --- I really hope this is the case!

* Good call on the change to how votes are counted; the old (current) way really doesn't make sense.

Thank you for listening.

No. Thank you for your work.

I have reviewed the documents and the suggested changes have made some items more clear.
Any final document on GFC Meeting Procedural Rules should be member friendly, clear, simple, and always strike positive notes whenever possible. There should be no perception that those procedural rules favor any group, whether it be faculty members, staff, students, and especially administration.

Thanks to the committee for their work on this important task!
Thanks for providing this opportunity to provide input on the rules that govern GFC. I have served on GFC for eight years, and in general have enjoyed my time there. The meetings were generally very informative, collegial and productive and we got a lot done in just two hours. It was fun to see my colleagues from other disciplines and catch up with them.

In the last year I have grown increasingly concerned about the way that GFC meetings are run, and there has been a reduction in the quality of debate and a general lack of collegiality. Strident voices are often heard loudly, but are not acknowledged or responded to by the Chair, making them ever more strident. As a result, others are very reluctant to speak up in such a charged atmosphere. I have heard from many colleagues that GFC used to be an enjoyable meeting to attend but now it is generally painful, like pulling teeth without an anesthetic. I have several colleagues who are planning to withdraw from GFC because of this. I am hopeful that the work that your committee is beginning has the potential to improve the situation.

I think many of the recent problems stem from the move to an online format in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. This change has been unfortunate as it comes at a time of great financial stress on the institution with major re-organization and cost cutting. These changes would have been very difficult to achieve in the best of circumstances and trying to work through them using an online format at GFC has proven very difficult indeed.

In general, I am supportive of the proposed changes to our guiding documents. I think we need to address the problem of agenda-setting for GFC. Much time has been spent in the last year with arguments over the agenda and it is not unusual to spend the first 45 minutes of each meeting debating the agenda itself without achieving any substantive progress on the actual agenda items. As a result, the meetings are often having to be extended by one hour or more which is very inconvenient to those of us who have busy schedules and other commitments. This is extremely frustrating; members’ time is very valuable, and must be respected. I think that the GFC Executive Committee is failing in its duty of setting a robust agenda for GFC, which leads to endless squabbles about the agenda itself, and this must be addressed as a priority.

I would like to see the chair of GFC provide much stronger leadership and guidance in these meetings, instead of passively letting the body spend so much valuable time making so little progress. There is a way to respectfully help the body to move through its work in an efficient manner instead of letting meetings spin endlessly out of control with little or no direction. I would also like to see the chair engage more fully with members who disagree with him, and invite them into the important work that we have to do together – he should bring these voices “inside the tent” so that they can be “pissing out” instead of letting them remain “outside the tent pissing in”. I wonder if our Chair is afraid of these discordant voices, and I would like to see him engage with them more confidently and inviting them in to assist with the work, instead of quietly hoping they will somehow go away.

I also think there is a need for more accountability amongst GFC members both in terms of attendance requirements and the quality and tenor of contribution to debate. Being on GFC is a privilege, and we must expect more of each other.

Thanks again for this opportunity to comment, I would also be happy to discuss in person.
Glad to see that the principles of collegial academic governance be updated to include the TRC and EDI.

I am looking forward to the committee’s work on consultation.

No, thank you for giving me the opportunity to express my thoughts in writing.

I would suggest that given the size of the committee and the amount of information needed to review, I think it may be helpful to have an informal communication channels for the meeting (slack, wonder.me). I think this may help with strengthening uptake and engagement. There are over a hundred members involved and it is difficult to engage without taking up more valuable time. An engaged committee will help move people forward, and provide a more diverse input than a dichotomy of perspectives.

The ad hoc discussed the possibility of University Governance creating and managing an informal discussion board or forum, where GFC members could exchange ideas and comment on items coming forward to GFC, and provide feedback on agendas and minutes before approval. We did a scan of other U15s and looked into what might be required to make something like this work and found that in our counterparts, this is not something that exists. The Governance Office does not have the capacity to moderate a forum like this and would prefer members find alternatives to connect and discuss items before meetings. We do value when members reach out to us with their questions, and have committed to making the website easier to navigate in the future as well.

| The GFC meetings are sometimes taken over by discussion which may be productive, but that occasionally appears as needing a separate space prior to the meeting. Dear Kate,

Further to our correspondence and our discussion earlier today about proposed action item 7 for GFC's meeting next Monday, I write to let you have the several proposed amendments to the proposed revisions to the "Meeting Procedural Rules" for which I have seconders. I include one item for which I do not yet have a seconder—the need for the rules to include the rule "Motion to Postpone."

I cc the seconders, along with Nelson Amaral. As you and I discussed, at the beginning of Monday's meeting, when GFC is approving its agenda, Nelson and I will move that the proposed action item become a discussion item instead.

I also want to let you have the bullet-point that I would like to see added to the "Roles and Responsibilities of Members" document as the very first bullet-point after "GFC operates under the principle of collegial academic governance including":

- Accountability for protecting the academic integrity of the University

As we discussed, I have significant concerns about the document "Principles for General Faculties Council Standing Committee Composition" being approved at this time given that this is the triennial review of the document. If there can be no further changes to this document for three years it is imperative that GFC have a discussion of what is at stake in it. In the event that GFC does not choose to make action item 7 into a discussion item I will be working on an amendment to that document as well.

Thank you again for your time today. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Carolyn

Hi Kate,

You can share all this with the committee if you wish, but if you do so, please emphasize that I do not claim to have "the answers" and all of this is being done in a friendly way --- I am just providing feedback as requested by the presenters at GFC, and can only offer suggestions based on the information I have. The rest is up to the committee to discuss, refine, and present again at GFC.

Suggestion 1

My first suggestion is simply to omit two of the statements in question, for reasons I already explained earlier in this thread:

* A commitment to supporting Indigenous Initiatives and the University of Alberta's response to the Truth and Reconciliation Commission's Calls to Action
* A commitment to advancing equity, diversity and inclusion through dedicated resources, strong leadership and by ensuring the work is resourced and distributed fairly

The above two bullets, in any case, would appear to be covered by the more general third bullet, and a newly inserted final bullet, both of which are below:

* A commitment to equitable, inclusive and participatory governance decision-making
* A commitment to listening to, and being respectful of, a multiplicity of perspectives, lived experiences and the overall complexity of diversity within the University

Similarly, for item 7.1, my suggestion is to omit it on the basis that the election itself is not run by the member --- it is the responsibility of those running the election in the constituency (e.g., a nominating committee or similar) to seek candidates as that constituency best sees fit.

7.1 Members of GFC shall support the renewal of membership by encouraging individuals to put their names forward for election in their respective constituencies and being purposeful in reaching out to members of Indigenous and other equity-deserving groups.

If there is a reluctance to delete the items, then I'd suggest the committee examine WHY they feel these items must remain in this particular document (i.e., why these types of statements belong in a GFC "Roles and Responsibilities of Members" document vs. other places within the university documents and/or websites), and, if the statements are to remain, then what wording is suitable so that they stay "neutral" in terms of roles and responsibilities of elected members and not in contradiction with Meeting Procedural Rule 13.1 (which I already quoted earlier).

For the first two items that I suggested being deleted, two decisions need to be made: (a) exact wording; (b) where in the list the bullets are to appear --- presently, they are front and centre at the top of the list. Leaving aside (b), for (a), I tried a few alternative choices of words --- this is the best I could do for a version that was non-committal and what I might call "neutral"; they allow for recognition (and hence implied consideration) as opposed to required endorsement; in that regard, in the second bullet, notice "equity," "diversity," and "inclusion" are NOT capitalized (and hence do not refer to any specific policy or movement), which I believe is important because I would guess that no one would argue these as general concepts (i.e., with the dictionary definitions of the words), even if they may not endorse a specific policy or movement or similar related to these words. However, this is just a start if rewording is a consideration, and it requires further careful thought --- so, the committee can consider these, compare them to the original and what they feel is a justifiable intended outcome of the statements, and then refine them or discard them:
* An acknowledgement of the University of Alberta's Indigenous Initiatives and response to the Truth and Reconciliation Commission's Calls to Action
* An acknowledgement of the importance of equity, diversity and inclusion

If 7.1 is to remain, one neutral consideration is the following:

7.1 Members of GFC shall support the renewal of membership by encouraging individuals to put their names forward for election in their respective constituencies.

A form closer to the original would be the following, but it still leaves "equity-deserving" unspecified, as I explained earlier --- which may hence require further tuning.

7.1 Members of GFC shall support the renewal of membership by encouraging individuals to put their names forward for election in their respective constituencies, and are encouraged to reach out to members of Indigenous and other equity-deserving groups.

That's as much feedback as I think I've got, at least for now, with my opinion being that Suggestion 1 is the simplest. I'll leave the rest to the committee and wait to see what appears at GFC.

Thank you for the opportunity to provide this feedback.

Kindest Regards and Best Wishes,
Mani

Question from GFC Elected Faculty Member Anastasia Elias on Procurement

On April 1 new purchasing rules will take place under SET. These rules dictate that, whenever possible, purchases must be made either (1) through preferred suppliers, or if (1) is not possible, (2) through purchase orders. Purchasing from non-standard suppliers is only allowed in exceptional circumstances. This may include restricting the use of P-Cards for people who purchase from other suppliers. While this will certainly streamline the procurement process, it may have serious unintended consequences for research at the University of Alberta. As research is an exploratory process and sometimes unpredictable process, the needs of those purchasing supplies, materials, and equipment can differ greatly from general business purchasing. For example, while it may be possible to predict and plan for the general business related needs of the university (office supplies, cleaning supplies, etc). it is much harder to make similar plans for research supplies, which can vary greatly.

Questions:
(1) What steps have the procurement team taken to understand the needs of research procurement? What consultation has taken place? How has this feedback been accounted for in the process?

(2) Has the procurement team looked into how many purchases are made per month from non-standard suppliers, and taken steps to understand why?

(3) Researchers have an obligation to spend grant funds responsibly. This includes obtaining the best prices, and ensuring that the progress of research is not delayed to due availability and/or lead times. Has the tri-council been consulted in the development of these restrictive processes that may incur additional costs and or lead-times?

(4) I understand that procurement may be willing to make exceptions when researchers can justify the need. Has procurement considered the costs (time and by extension financial) associated with the standard as well as work around procurement procedures for the many non-standard purchases made by researchers? How much extra work are we willing to download to researchers, research administrators, and department managers?

Response from Todd Gilchrist, Vice-President (University Services and Finance)

1) KPMG was retained in 2020 to complete a thorough review of all non-labor spend at the University. This included interviewing 50 employees from across campus to gain a clear understanding of the current purchasing environment and cost savings opportunities to reduce spend related to purchasing. A final report was provided by KPMG in November, 2020 to the Senior Administration.

Procurement and Contract Management (PCM) established a University wide Foundational Procurement task force that met bi-weekly from July 5, 2021 to October 27, 2021. In total, 33 members from multiple faculties, departments and units attended the meetings and were given the opportunity to provide feedback and input into the procurement redesign currently being implemented.

The taskforce feedback was used to determine direction, thresholds, process gaps and cost savings opportunities. All proposed changes were first brought to the task force for feedback prior to developing the initiative. The Senior Administrators Community of Practice has been updated monthly on the progress of these initiatives.

During our process review, PCM reviewed and aligned activities with the University of Toronto (UofT) and University of British Columbia (UBC). Both UofT and UBC have extensive listings of Preferred Suppliers and a multiple quote process currently in place.

2) With the assistance of the KPMG report, PCM reviewed all University spend to determine cost savings opportunities.

KPMG developed a spend cube that outlined the total spend base at the University; addressable spend vs non-addressable spend, spend related to research vs operational, contract vs non-contract spend, spend on specific categories by user groups and spending by channels.

Cost savings opportunities were broken down into 7 categories; this included Lab Supplies & Chemicals, IT & Telecommunications, Business Travel & Entertainment, Facility Maintenance & Construction, Professional Services, Education Material & Training Services and Marketing & Advertising.

Non-standard suppliers are used by the campus community (non-preferred suppliers). PCM has reviewed this spend to determine savings opportunities and recognizes all spend cannot be completed through our preferred supplier agreements. The use of non-standard suppliers will continue however PCM will continue to monitor this spend and other spend to ensure best value is obtained. Through these reviews, PCM will determine spend categories that should be expanded to include additional preferred supplier agreements that will reduce cost and streamline processes.

3) The changes being implemented April 1 include the following:
- Use of the Preferred Supplier Agreements (PSA) for goods and services
- Multiple quotes for goods and services between $20,000 to $75,000
- Contract for Services process redesign
- Expense Reimbursement compliance

In all four instances, cost reduction and deliverability are the main focus of the change.
PSA’s provide cost savings and also include delivery to the UofA campus, warranties, alignment with University purchasing standards, enable hassle free returns & credits and expedite invoicing & payment.

Multiple quotes ensure and demonstrate best value for purchases between the identified thresholds. In addition the process expands our competitive bid requirements as well as ensuring transparency to the supplier base. The university is bound to competitive bid trade agreement; multiple quotes reduce overall spend and demonstrate our commitment to providing opportunities to all vendors.

The redesign of our Contract for Services (CFS) process will expedite the procurement lifecycle. This includes purchasing, receipt and payment of services. Currently, many units begin work without an agreement in place with the vendor. This adds additional risk to the University. A contract that includes the UofA terms and conditions signed by Procurement and Contract Management is required to ensure liability is minimized and deliverables are clearly defined. Failure to follow the CFS process increases our risk and cost.

Expense Reimbursement is not a purchasing method supported by the University and should only be used in limited situations. This includes reimbursement for parking, mileage, registration, activities being completed in remote locations, cash economies and emergency situations. When goods and services are purchased by an individual on personal resources, the University reduces visibility to this spend and its competitive advantage by pooling all spend together to gain additional value. In addition, the Expense Reimbursement process is highly administrative; it should only be used in the rare instances outlined above.

These changes have not been reviewed with Tri-Council. In all four instances cost will be reduced and lead times were considered. These processes will enable the research community to spend more time on research and teaching while ensuring best value is gained with their research dollars.

4) The process changes outlined above will reduce the current work effort currently completed by this group.

Preferred Supplier Agreements and the use of the SupplyNet purchasing platform expedite purchasing activities.

PCM is standardizing these processes to reduce time spent on procuring goods & services and to ensure best value is gained.
The use of the University’s two primary purchasing methods; SupplyNet & the University issued Purchasing Card (PCard) ensures our negotiated pricing is readily available in the SupplyNet system, eliminates the requirement to shop multiple websites for pricing, includes delivery to your campus location and includes our Purchase Order Terms and Conditions. In addition, the PCard expedites purchases for goods below $5,000 and that are non-standard (non-PSA vendors).

Value to the institution is gained by reducing cost and streamlining processes. The process related to non-standard purchases has not changed and will continue to be available to the community.

Additional comments:

Whenever possible, purchases should be made either through preferred suppliers, or when it is not possible, through purchase orders in SupplyNet or P-Cards. Purchasing from other suppliers is acceptable when the item is not available from a preferred supplier or the researcher’s lead time cannot be met.

We encourage the use of P-Cards and SupplyNet Orders for these transactions and understand that scenarios exist where items cannot be purchased from a Preferred Supplier. This includes specialty items and where urgent timelines exist.

The Purpose of the Proposal is (please be specific)

To discuss the Report of the GFC Ad Hoc Committee for the Formal Review of Academic Restructuring

Executive Summary (outline the specific item – and remember your audience)

On February 8, 2021, the issue of collegial governance in light of the December events at General Faculties Council (GFC) and the Board of Governors was referred to a committee of the whole. The Committee recommended that:

“there be a formal review of the consultations and action processes for academic restructuring in the Fall of 2020. The goal of the review would be to make recommendations to improve communication and decision-making processes of the GFC and the University going forward. The review should be conducted by a group elected by GFC and report to the GFC and the Board of Governors.”

On June 10, GFC approved the Terms of Reference for the GFC ad hoc Review Committee and the committee was convened in October, 2021 and the chair has been reporting to GFC Executive Committee and GFC regularly.

The final report of the GFC Ad Hoc Committee for the Formal Review of Academic Restructuring includes an overview of the work of the committee and a summary of what committee members learned including the issues they identified. The report concludes with recommendations for planning of future consultation, and regarding GFC and its role.

Supplementary Notes and context

During their conversation on this item, members of Executive Committee expressed a desire to ensure that the recommendations were operationalized in a way that is tangible. They specifically discussed the need for the Executive Sub-committee on Governance and Procedural Oversight (GPO) to review the report and to report back to Executive Committee on a plan to move forward on the recommendations. That plan could then be presented back to GFC.

1. Report of the GFC Ad Hoc Committee for the Formal Review of Academic Restructuring (Pages 1-12)

Executive Summary

The Committee reviewed materials related to consultations on Academic Restructuring on the University of Alberta for Tomorrow website, the minutes and materials of GFC, GFC Executive Committee, and APC, as well as Academic Restructuring Working Group meeting materials. It also interviewed members of the university community involved with the process and experts in consultation and change management.

Consultation activities in summer and fall 2020 were extensive, reaching an unprecedented number of community members. They shaped the resulting proposals in several ways, including the ARWG’s shift away from amalgamating faculties to grouping them, incorporating the idea of a College of Arts and Science in proposals, and fine-tuning the final college model recommendation.

Our review revealed, however, the following weaknesses in the consultation, which affected the university community’s experience and GFC’s perception of its ability to play a meaningful role in decision-making:

- the purpose and scope of the consultation was poorly defined
- roles and authority in decision-making were unclear
- separating SET from the Academic Restructuring process hampered GFC’s ability to see the full picture when making its final recommendations
- the priority of academic motivations in the academic restructuring project was unclear
- GFC was underutilized as a site for consultation and thus was unable to fully perform its decision-making role

The experience of Fall 2020 demonstrated that GFC cannot be a decision-making body without also maintaining a central role in the development of proposals for major academic change. Therefore, the Committee recommends a number of steps for better consultation conceptualization and planning, and linking these to decision-making processes. It further proposes measures to clarify and reassert GFC’s decision-making role in bicameral collegial governance and to ensure that the voice of GFC is heard by the Board of Governors. To ensure GFC’s ability to act as a deliberative body for future major decisions, the Committee recommends:
1) that GFC members elect a working group to represent them within consultation and decision-making processes even when GFC is not meeting
2) that GFC membership be a criterion for selecting members of future advisory/steering groups
3) that GFC hold special meetings organized in a way which will allow members to purposefully interact and deliberate, thereby contributing to the elaboration of solutions;
4) that GFC be provided with all information that it deems necessary for effective decision making, eschewing any rigid categorization of academic and administrative matters

Our Mandate

On June 7, 2021, General Faculties Council formed the GFC Ad Hoc Committee for the Formal Review of Academic Restructuring. The Committee's mandate, as set out in the Report of the Committee of the Whole of February 8, 2021, is as follows:

“That GFC Recommends there be a formal review of the consultations and action processes for academic restructuring in the Fall of 2020. The goal of the review would be to make recommendations to improve communication and decision-making processes of the GFC and the University going forward. The review should be conducted by a group elected by GFC and report to the GFC and the Board of Governors.”

Composition of the Committee

Following a call from the GFC Nominating Committee, the following members were appointed:

Heather Coleman (Chair), Professor, Department of History, Classics, and Religion, Arts
Sue-Ann Mok (Vice Chair), Assistant Professor, Biochemistry, Medicine & Dentistry
Marsha Boyd, NASA Representative to GFC
Kyle Foster, NASA Representative to GFC
Kathy Haddadkar, Graduate Student Representative to GFC, Department of Music, Arts
Adrian Wattamaniuk, Undergraduate Student Representative to GFC, Engineering
What We Did

In accordance with our terms of reference, the Committee initially undertook a review of the following documentary materials:

- the University of Alberta for Tomorrow website, focusing on the Consultation tab (including Town Halls, Pulse Surveys, Thought Exchange Reports and UAT summaries of Thought Exchange).
- Minutes and materials of GFC, GFC Executive Committee, and Academic Programs Committee for January 2020 - January 2021
- Academic Restructuring Working Group meeting materials, April 22 to December 18, 2020, including timelines, communication plan, student consultation summary

In order to better contextualize these materials, to understand the consultation and decision-making processes, and to gather advice while considering our recommendations, the Committee also conducted 16 interviews with members of the University community at large, as well as those involved in the Academic Restructuring process – including faculty members and administrators – of whom 10 were members of the ARWG. We notified all interviewees that their comments would remain confidential and would not be quoted directly in the report. Committee members took detailed notes of the conversations, for the exclusive use of the committee.

GFC Secretary Kate Peters provided additional advice and materials, as did the Provost’s Chief of Staff, Kathleen Brough throughout this process.

To facilitate our assessment of the alignment of our institution’s restructuring and consultation process with established standards in the field, we also interviewed 4 University of Alberta experts in consultation and institutional change management. These experts also provided counsel for the proposed recommendations included in this report.

Although our mandate was to review consultation and action processes in the Fall term 2020, we quickly discovered that these interactions could not be understood apart from the longer process of Academic Restructuring, which was launched in Winter 2020. Therefore, the committee sought to gather and examine evidence relating to 2020 as a whole.

Several key questions which our committee posed include:

- how was the consultation planned, what were its stated goals, and what was the plan for using the information it revealed?
● what was the role of the ARWG in the process of AR?
● how did consultation lead to the proposed models presented in September 2020?
● how did consultation serve to revise the models proposed in September and presented to GFC in November 2020?
● how was the role of GFC understood by the various participants?

The Committee as a whole met 12 times between October 22, 2021 and March 1, 2022; furthermore, teams of 2-3 members conducted the aforementioned interviews.

Committee Chair Heather Coleman provided regular updates on the work of the Committee to GFC and the GFC Executive Committee between October 2021 and March 2022.

What We Learned

The General Faculties Council’s involvement with academic restructuring began at GFC’s March 30, 2020 meeting. President David Turpin informed the community that, following the announcement of stringent cuts to the Campus Alberta grant in the February provincial budget, “fundamental restructuring will be required and we must be prepared to consider all options.” The first meeting of the Academic Restructuring Working Group occurred shortly after on April 22, 2020.

Documentation from the first ARWG meeting revealed that senior administration had already formed a clear opinion that Australian universities were exemplary models for restructuring initiatives that enhanced efficiencies without causing a detrimental impact on global rankings. Based on these models, an argument was presented that favoured a consolidation of faculties and departments to achieve savings through economies of scale. Committee members considered a document dated January 2020 that presented preliminary comparisons of academic structures at Canadian and Australian institutions. The working group was also presented with a comparative financial analysis of the faculties within the UofA dated April 20, 2020. The April 22 ARWG meeting materials also included an official proposal from the management consulting firm, NOUS, to analyze a series of comparator institutions dated April 14, 2020. (The Provost’s office confirmed that the university had engaged NOUS earlier in the 2019-20 academic year for the SET project, which was already underway; it then hired NOUS for this further smaller project of identifying comparisons for Academic Restructuring). We did not find documentation that ARWG or GFC were consulted regarding the initial selection of NOUS. The proposal recommended comparisons of Canadian universities (UBC, Univ.
of Toronto, UofC) as well as US, UK and Australian institutions. At the following meeting on May 14, 2022, the agenda included discussion of proposed organization models, working principles for the ARWG, and an initial paper prepared by NOUS. The NOUS paper provided an overview of the faculty structures of model institutions (including Canadian universities). At the end of the NOUS paper, next steps were detailed with a requirement that the working group agree on the design criteria for restructuring, as well as the selection of institutions for analysis as case studies. A total of eight case studies were presented to ARWG at their June 10, 2020 meeting. These cases did not include any Canadian institutions. All NOUS reports presented to ARWG were later made public to the University community in various configurations through presentations in town halls, GFC meetings, or the ARWG interim report (September 2020).

Our analysis of the NOUS reports found that all case studies presented by NOUS involved the reduction or reorganization of faculties. Notably, none of the cases included the addition of a further layer of academic administration on top of the faculty structure which characterized the “College Model” later approved by the Board of Governors. In addition, our committee did not find any evidence that NOUS advised the ARWG beyond the June 14, 2022 report. There was no indication that NOUS was consulted on the potential efficiencies or cost savings of the three initial restructuring models/scenarios presented to the GFC in September 2020.

The short timeline for undertaking such a massive restructuring had an important impact on the consultation and decision-making processes. The initial timeline presented to the ARWG in May 2020 envisioned a March 2021 approval date by the board, including a more extended period of consultation on the final model in November and December, with a final proposal to be presented to GFC in January 2021, and approval at GFC’s February meeting. The deadline for a GFC decision was not indicated in the Provost’s June report to GFC nor was a deadline listed in a July 15 ARWG document titled “Decision Steps.” By September 2020, however, the Board of Governors’ approval date had been moved to early December, thereby further compressing the process. Ordinarily, a transformation such as this would take five years and the consultation and preparation process would be much longer.

Our investigation revealed that this ever-tightening timeline and the lack of clarity about GFC’s role in this process and the date at which it would make its recommendation to the Board had a significant impact on both the consultation process and how it was experienced by the University of Alberta community. Much of the really significant thinking about principles and models was accomplished over the summer when the university community’s attention lulls and GFC does not meet. Well-attended town halls were held on July 8 and 15, and consultation was carried out with the Dean’s Council, the Students’ Union, and the Graduate Students’ Association over the summer.

Due to forceful arguments over the summer from various faculties regarding the importance of having distinct identities for accreditation purposes or due to significant community commitments (for example strong arguments in favour of preserving the integrity of the Faculty of Native Studies, the Campus St. Jean, and Augustana Campus), what had been a suggestion to consolidate faculties in June became a proposal to group faculties in various ways – including a new “college” model – by September. However, the speed of the process and the full scope of discussions by the ARWG were not presented to GFC until September, leading to a lack in preparedness for the interim report dated September 2020. This led to GFC members being taken aback when they were told at their first meeting in September by Board Chair Kate Chisholm that if GFC did not swiftly approve a plan, the Board would do so for them. The ARWG had travelled far over the summer, but the broader university community had not. Our conversations with members of the Provost’s and President’s offices revealed that this lag presented a serious communications challenge – to “catch up” the university community at large on both the evolution of thinking about academic restructuring over the summer, as well as the emotional coming-to-terms with the challenges before the U of A community.

The term “consultation” means different things to different people and those understandings vary according to cultural expectations and across sectors (business, education, government). We learned that there are also different types of consultation: one focuses largely on information sharing and building support; another aims to solicit feedback on a plan and to allow for adjustments; finally, a full participatory consultation involves stakeholders in the decision-making process and takes place at all phases of the process, beginning with the initial definition of the problem(s) to be addressed, then continuing through the development of policy, implementation, evaluation, and review. Our experts on organizational change (as well as best-practices documents from public organizations such as the Treasury Board of Canada) thus emphasized how crucial it is at the outset of a consultation to define its objectives and parameters (for instance: identifying problems, offering new ideas, or fine-tuning a proposal), to explain how the information gathered will be used and to clearly lay out the decision-making pathway so that expectations are clear on all sides.

The consultation of Fall 2020 was truly extensive and in terms of the participation of the university community, unprecedented in scope. Between June and November the following forms of consultation took place:
• Town Halls - 7 held between June and November 2020 (viewed over 41,000 times)\(^1\)
  ○ Use of ThoughtExchange to generate questions and feedback during town halls

• Other Stakeholder Consultations – ARWG regularly (largely through the Provost’s attendance and presentation at meetings) consulted with numerous stakeholders including Dean’s Council, APC, GFC, the Board of Governors, and the Senior Leader’s Retreat, in addition to the student unions mentioned above.
• Key Governance Bodies – GFC and its Executive Committee and Academic Programs Committee were regularly consulted and updated throughout the process.

The results of much of this consultation were publicly available on the University of Alberta for Tomorrow website. Traffic to this site was and continues to be high.

The context of the Covid-19 pandemic was an important factor in shaping the form and effectiveness of the consultation process. Those involved in its planning emphasized the challenges of finding new methods to consult the community in a completely online environment. They described trying various formats and techniques, each of which provided different types of information and attracted different levels of engagement. The Zoom format elicited far more participation than in any previous experience; for example, an average of 1600 individuals tuned in to each town hall. Yet at the same time, only a small number of those faces were visible to those doing the consultation and there was little ability to read the room – which for instance, would assist in gauging the level of support for a particular speaker’s question or comment.

Evidence from the ARWG’s files (including a consultation planning document dated May 2020) and interviews reveals that consultation was primarily envisioned as a series of meetings with stakeholders in three phases: “principles”, “preliminary options”, and “final proposal.” Some ARWG members also mentioned reaching out to their constituents and being encouraged to attend consultation events (e.g. town halls), but consultation per se was not one of their functions on the committee.

At each of its meetings, the ARWG was provided with the full range of the data collected, including all of the e-mails sent by community members and summaries developed by staff in the Provost’s office. Members were expected to review the material in advance and did so to the extent that their schedules permitted; however, with several ARWG members holding high-level leadership positions, the extent of this review was limited in some cases.

ARWG members offered several examples of how consultation affected the evolution of its proposals. Particularly important was early feedback in the summer about maintaining the integrity of the community faculties separate from the college groupings (and, more generally, about preserving faculty identity rather than wholesale amalgamations of faculties), and the placing of the idea of a College of Arts and Science on the table. The college model essentially emerged at the ARWG over the summer in response to resistance to the idea of faculty amalgamations.

GFC was explicitly informed of its decision-making role and deadline in September. Its members took that role very seriously, raising numerous questions and offering suggestions based on members’ experience “on the ground”, asking for further information including data on financial impact and SET, and seeking to contribute constructively to Academic Restructuring by making amendments to the ARWG’s final proposal, which were passed with a substantial majority.

Issues We Identified:

Despite the impressive extent of consultation activities in Fall 2020, our review of materials, conversations with both ARWG members and other colleagues involved in a range of capacities, and discussion with experts in consultation and change management revealed weaknesses in the conceptualization of both the role of consultation in decision-making and of the goals of this particular consultation. These deficiencies had an important impact on the resulting process – on both the university community’s experience of the consultation and on GFC’s perception of its ability to play a meaningful role in decision-making. These weaknesses can be summarized as follows:

● the purpose and scope of the consultation was poorly defined
• roles and authority in decision-making were unclear for both the ARWG and GFC (and the Board of Governors)
• the role of academic motivations in Academic Restructuring was unclear
• GFC was underutilized as a site for consultation and thus for decision-making

Purpose and scope: there was no clear definition of the objectives of the consultation and its parameters, and thus no clear communication of what sort of feedback was being sought, and about what aspects of the academic restructuring proposals were and were not negotiable. Major decisions about principles had in fact been made by the time the ARWG first met – most importantly, that academic restructuring would be the solution to the financial challenges the university faced and that academic restructuring would be discussed separately from the accompanying Service Excellence Transformation process. It was not clear initially to the members of the ARWG (let alone the broader university community), that alternatives to the “academic restructuring” approach to responding to the budget cuts would not be considered. Our interviews revealed that there was no preliminary discussion at the ARWG of the questions driving the consultations or of the way in which the evidence gleaned would be used.

The consultation plan found in ARWG’s materials was primarily a communications plan. This communication-focused approach played out in how most of the public consultations – town halls, roundtables, meetings of GFC and so on – were managed. Generally, they featured long presentations with relatively little time for discussion and, in some cases, responses to pre-selected questions with no opportunity for a conversation to develop. This format, together with a lack of clarity about what could and could not be changed, also contributed to a widespread sense that the consultations were largely performative.

Roles and authority in decision-making: key groups involved in the process of decision-making were unclear about their mandate and their authority. Several members of the ARWG noted that they were unsure initially – or even throughout the process – of their mandate. Some described a sense of having ‘carte blanche’ to think creatively about the academic organization of our institution in the future, whereas others felt that the budget cuts were the prime driver of the process and that it became increasingly clear that the Board and administration had strongly preferred options.

As the senior body for academic affairs in the University’s system of collegial governance, GFC was told that it was responsible for making the final recommendation to the Board of Governors, and ARWG members all remembered that an important criterion in discussing potential models was whether they would be acceptable to GFC. However, in the consultation plans and in practice, GFC was treated as just one of many bodies to be consulted for feedback rather than as a deliberative body and a site for creative input into proposals. The Board of Governors emerges in the documents and people’s recollections as impatient with the processes of consultation and collegial decision-making at GFC and as having a solution in mind that it would impose if GFC did not produce an acceptable recommendation in time. In the end, this is what happened: GFC believed that its deliberations had produced a compromise that would be acceptable to the university community, but GFC ended up being bypassed.

Role of academic motivations: there was a lack of clarity about what academic problems Academic Restructuring had set out to address or what academic benefits it would bring. The decision to completely separate the SET and AR processes made it difficult for members of the ARWG and of GFC to properly assess the impact of decisions about academic structures that seemed to be driven by cost-savings criteria and thus clearly had profound administrative implications. This had an impact on information-sharing: GFC felt that it was not given the tools to make the decision it was supposed to make. The net effect, one that several ARWG members noted regretfully in retrospect, was that the human impact of the proposed academic restructuring was not clear. Finally, the fact that principles and goals were unclear meant that metrics, too, were vague. No consultation was done or information provided about implementation plans.

GFC underutilized: GFC is the governing body responsible for academic affairs. In the face of such a major decision, GFC members were highly engaged. However, the structure of consultation and decision-making meant that GFC felt treated as a hoop to jump through rather than a partner in the process of Academic Restructuring. As we have already established, the timeline for decision-making was not clear to the GFC in June. Given that even with the originally planned timeline the plan was to propose models for discussion early in the fall term, GFC should have been involved in the consultation over the summer.

The events of Fall 2020 demonstrated the need to reinvigorate bicameral governance at the University of Alberta and to take seriously the role of GFC as the body responsible for the academic affairs of the university. The process of consultation and decision-making on academic restructuring revealed that GFC cannot be a decision-making body without also having a central deliberative role in the development of proposals.
Recommendations

Recommendations for planning of future consultations:

1) Clarify objectives from the outset: good consultation begins very early, in order to clarify the issues to be addressed and thereby distinguish symptoms from the problems themselves. Once the nature of the problem is identified, it becomes easier to establish the goals of further consultation: what type of feedback is needed to solve the problem? Metrics should be developed based on these objectives.

2) For all major consultations, a detailed plan should be worked out regarding what information is sought and how that information will be used in decision-making. This plan should be shared with stakeholders from the outset.

3) Establish a clear and publicly available roadmap for decision-making.

4) Zoom should be retained as a tool, but should be used primarily to share information rather than gathering feedback. Zoom cannot replace in-person town halls and especially focus-group roundtables (which could have been held via Zoom but were not), which are critical to interactive and thus productive conversation.

5) Presentations at roundtables should be kept brief (no more than 15% of the allotted time) and questions should be spontaneous, not gathered in advance. Discussion and resistance should be embraced as opportunities for effective learning and to generate positive engagement.

6) GFC should be involved from the outset in consultations on major academic matters where GFC will take a decision (see below).

7) There needs to be a detailed consultation plan for the post-decision implementation period. This plan should be created early during the decision-making process to ensure objectives are and will be met and to permit learning and necessary adjustments as policy is implemented. There should be continuity of working groups/steering committees pre and post-decision to evaluate progress.

Recommendations regarding GFC and its role:

1) There should be a review of GFC’s terms of reference and responsibilities to clarify its decision-making role and its authority.

2) Both GFC members and members of the Board of Governors should receive systematic education and regular reminders about the purpose, nature, and best practices of collegial governance.
3) We reiterate the importance of establishing a formal agreement between GFC and the Board of Governors on procedures for transmitting the will of GFC to the Board in the event that the chair of GFC disagrees with a recommendation of GFC.

4) GFC should elect a working group whenever major academic decisions are to be taken by GFC.
   a) This working group should report directly and regularly to GFC and GFC Executive.
   b) The group represents GFC within the consultation and decision-making process even if it occurs outside of regular GFC working periods.
   c) The group is responsible for ensuring that any information essential for GFC to make an informed recommendation is provided.
   d) Members elected to the working group must not already have a formal role in the process (for example, they must not be members of any steering committees or advisory groups).

5) GFC membership (or recent experience of GFC membership) should be a criterion in selecting members for advisory/steering groups such as the ARWG.

6) In the future, when major issues present themselves, GFC should expect to hold extra meetings or retreats. These meetings should be structured to allow for considerable interaction between members. For example, breakout groups followed by a “committee of the whole” would ensure that a wide range of voices are heard and the collective wisdom of GFC brought to bear on defining problems and shaping solutions. This will contribute to the elaboration of solutions that will enjoy buy-in from the university community's highest decision-making body.

7) If GFC is truly the highest academic decision-making body at the university, it needs access to the full range of data to understand the impact of its decisions. A rigid categorization of academic and administrative matters does not represent reality and thus undermines effective decision-making. If GFC believes it needs information in order to make a decision within its jurisdiction, that information should be provided.

| Executive Summary (outline the specific item – and remember your audience) | The Facilities Development Committee has been a standing committee of the General Faculties Council in one form or another since 1961. However, in light of frequently cancelled meetings and evolution in the need for decision making on facilities development at GFC, the General Faculties Council is asked to consider moving the authority of the committee to the Academic Planning Committee (APC) and the Committee on the Learning Environment (CLE) and that FDC be disbanded. |

Authority of FDC

FDC holds delegated authority from GFC and the Board to recommend on policy matters with respect to:
- comprehensive facilities development plan;
- planning and use of physical facilities including parking and transportation;
- use of land leased or owned by the University;
- standards, systems and procedures for planning and designing physical facilities.

In addition, FDC holds delegated authority from the Board of Governors to approve:
- General Space Programs for academic units;
- proposals concerning the design and use of all new facilities and repurposing of existing facilities.

Limitations to FDC Authority

The Board delegation of authority to approve General Space Programs for academic units does not include:
- choice of site location for buildings, which remain an operational issue delegated to the Vice-President (Facilities and Operations).
Item No. 14

- approval of capital expenditures authorized by the Board under the Capital Expenditure Authorization Request Policy

Most policies related to planning and use of physical facilities are under the authority of the Board or the Vice-President (Facilities and Operations).

Alignment with the Mandates of CLE and APC

The proposed changes would move the delegated authority to approve space plans for academic units to APC and the design and use of new and repurposed academic spaces to CLE. APC already has the responsibility to recommend to the Board of Governors on facilities policy matters. In effect, this change means that only one standing committee of GFC will recommend on changes to university policy on facilities.

The move of delegated authority to approve proposals for design or repurposing of space aligns with CLE’s responsibilities to provide feedback on new and revised learning spaces impacts on instructor and student educational experiences (5.4) and to provide advice on the vision and strategy for learning spaces (5.5).

Meetings and Decision Making of FDC

Almost half or 11 of the 24 scheduled meetings of FDC have been cancelled due to a lack of business since the 2016-2017 academic year. In that time, FDC has approved General Space Programs for less than ten academic units and approved 5 proposals concerning the design of new or the repurposing of existing buildings. General Space Programs for Academic Units are costly to develop and may not be a priority in the coming years as units grapple with academic and administrative restructuring.

Proposals for design or repurposing of space have come as little as once a year. Some examples include RCRF (2016), Myer Horowitz Theatre (2017), South Campus Community Ice Arena (2018), Dent/Pharm (2019), I.F. Morrison Structural Engineering Lab Renovation (2020).

Decisions on policy matters are rare (the LRDP was revised twice, once in 2020 and once in 2021). The committee also receives an update on projects at each meeting on behalf of GFC. That information is also provided to CLE and is also publicly available on the Facilities and Operations website.

Next Steps

The proposed changes to the Terms of References for CLE and APC represent a move of the delegated authority held by FDC without any proposed revision to the content or language. As a part of the planned three-year review of the APC and CLE terms of reference, the language should be reviewed to ensure alignment with these committee’s mandates and to update as required.

Legislative Compliance and jurisdiction

Post-Secondary Learning Act (PSLA) gives General Faculties Council (GFC) responsibility, subject to the authority of the Board of Governors (BoG), over “academic affairs (section 26(1)), and provides that GFC may make recommendations to the BoG on a “building program” (26(1)(o)). The PSLA (19) also requires the Board “consider the recommendations of the GFC, if any, on matters of academic importa prior to providing for
- (a) the support and maintenance of the university,
- (b) the betterment of existing buildings,
Item No. 14

- (c) the construction of any new buildings the board considers necessary to the purposes of the university,
- (d) the furnishing and equipping of the existing and newly erected buildings."

   The Committee should regularly report to GFC with respect to its activities and decisions.

9. Definitions

   University Facilities: All lands, buildings, and space owned, operated, or leased by or from the University of Alberta. (as per UAPPOL)

   General Space Program: A general space program describes the current state of an academic, research and/or administrative unit's activities in terms of their space needs, including student, staffing and support requirements. A space program includes a space budget that outlines how much space the unit has currently, how much it will require in the near future, and also predicts what amount of space may be required over a long-term planning period. (as per UAPPOL)

   Repurposing: Significant changes to the use of a facility, as determined by the Vice-President (Facilities and Operations) or delegate.

   Space/Systems Renewal: Upgrades and improvements to space that involve renewed surface finishes and systems improvements. Renewal projects would apply to areas in which there is no change in use and would be used to upgrade large base building system deferred maintenance issues in order to support current usage and operation. Examples of renewal include the following: repairs as repainting, replacement of flooring, replacing of piping, replacement of air systems, rebuilding of sidewalks, or upgrading a building envelope. (as per UAPPOL)

Renovation or Alteration: Any physical change to space that relates to more than renewed surface finishes. (as per UAPPOL)

Major Maintenance: Unplanned repairs and replacement that must be accomplished, but that is not funded by normal maintenance resources received in the annual operating budget cycle, and includes significant repairs and building system/component replacement in-kind. Examples include replacement of skylights, fire alarm systems, complete replacement of flooring for a department. (as per UAPPOL)

Repairs: Work to restore damaged or worn-out facilities (e.g., large-scale roof replacement after a wind storm) to normal operating condition. (as per UAPPOL)

Academic Staff: As defined by the Recruitment Policy (Appendix A) Definition and Categories of Academic Staff, Administrators and Colleagues in UAPPOL

Non-Academic Staff: As defined by the Recruitment Policy (Appendix B) Definition and Categories of Support Staff in UAPPOL

| Executive Summary (outline the specific item – and remember your audience) | The University of Alberta and the AASUA exchanged opening proposals for the negotiation of a renewal collective agreement on November 12, 2020. The parties met approximately 32 times and engaged in three days of mediation. The mediator issued a report on March 2, 2022, outlining recommended terms of settlement. The mediator’s report refers to items previously agreed by both parties in bargaining, including the language items here relating to appointment, promotion, and dismissal that are under the authority of GFC. The recommended terms must be ratified by both parties and confirmation of ratification must be communicated to the mediator by 1:00 pm on March 9, 2022.

The Post-Secondary Learning Act (section 22(2)) provides for GFC to approve procedures relating to the appointment, promotion and dismissal of academic staff members. As the Mediator’s report refers to changes to these procedures within the collective agreement agreed by the parties in bargaining, approval is being sought from GFC.

Section 4.1 of GFC Executive’s Terms of Reference gives them the authority to act on behalf of General Faculties Council on matters that must be decided before the next regularly scheduled GFC meeting and where it is not feasible to call a special meeting of GFC. GFC Executive Committee is asked to act on behalf of GFC in this instance in order to have the agreement ratified by the Board, ideally concurrently with the conclusion of AASUA’s ratification process on March 8, 2022, but in any event no later than the mediator’s deadline of 1:00 pm on March 9, 2022. Per Section 7.1 of Executive’s Terms of Reference, decisions made on behalf of GFC must be reported at the next meeting of GFC.

Attachment 1 tracks all of the changes that are being proposed to the collective agreement for ease of reference and contains explanatory notes in the margin.

COMMON SCHEDULE

Article 7: Discipline

7.01 Initiation of actions under this Article 7 shall be guided by the principles set out in Appendix F.

Written complaints

7.02.1 Any person may make a written complaint to the Provost about alleged misconduct. The complainant shall provide a description of the act or omission.

7.02.2 The Provost may exercise discretion not to authorize an investigation if the complaint is deemed to be vexatious or frivolous. The Provost shall provide in writing to the complainant the rationale for the decision.

7.02.3 The use of this Article 7 is inappropriate where there are other existing dispute resolution mechanisms in this Agreement.

7.02.4 If the written complaint is not received by the Provost within 6 months of the date that the alleged misconduct became known to the complainant, the complaint shall be considered abandoned. Notwithstanding Article 7.10, where circumstances reasonably warrant, the Provost has the discretion to extend the timeline.

Preliminary Assessment

7.03.1 Once the Provost is aware of the alleged misconduct referenced in Article 7.02.1, the Provost shall preliminarily assess the severity of the alleged misconduct as either Level 1 or Level 2, as those terms are defined in Article 7.03.2(a) and (b), and such assessment shall be completed within 10 days.

7.03.2 (a) Level 1 shall mean misconduct attracting possible disciplinary action in the form of a written letter of reprimand. (It is understood that a written letter of expectation or warning are not disciplinary action.)

(b) Level 2 shall mean misconduct attracting possible disciplinary action in the form set out in 7.11.2.
7.03.3 If the alleged misconduct is assessed by the Provost as Level 1, the Provost may delegate to the Deputy Provost, a Vice-Provost, Dean or other appropriate administrative officer (the “designee”), but shall not delegate to a Staff Member, including Department Chairs. Hereinafter, for purposes of Level 1, Provost shall mean Provost or designee and for purposes of Level 2, Provost shall mean Provost or Deputy Provost.

Level 1 Misconduct

7.04.1 In the case of the alleged Level 1 misconduct the Provost may conduct an inquiry into the allegations of misconduct. The respondent shall, at a minimum, be provided an opportunity to know and respond in writing and/or in person to the allegations. The respondent, should they choose to be represented, shall only be represented by the Association. If the inquiry is not commenced within two weeks 15 days of the date that the Provost is aware of the alleged misconduct, the complaint shall be considered abandoned.

7.04.2 If the Provost has delegated Level 1 misconduct to a designee, and if the designee reassesses the severity of the alleged misconduct as Level 2 misconduct, the matter shall be referred back to the Provost.

7.04.3 Following the inquiry described in Article 7.04.1, if the Provost reasonably believes that discipline of the kind referenced in Article 7.03.2 (a) a letter of reprimand is warranted, discipline of that kind may be issued. It shall be issued as soon as reasonably possible.

7.04.4 Discipline issued in accordance with Article 7.04.3 shall be expunged from all of the respondent’s personnel files 6 months following its effective date, determined in accordance with Articles 7.16.1 and 7.16.2, provided there are no further incidents of similar misconduct within that period. Once expunged, the letter of reprimand shall never be used in any subsequent disciplinary matter nor in any grievance process.

7.04.5 The decision to issue discipline in accordance with Article 7.04.3 shall be subject to the grievance process Arbitration pursuant to Article 7.15.1.

At the same time, the Provost shall advise the respondent of the availability of advice from the Association.   a) that a second probationary period be offered to the Academic Faculty member;
  b) that an appointment with tenure be offered to the Academic Faculty member; or
  c) that no further appointment be offered to the Academic Faculty member.
Decisions at the end of the second probationary period

A5.04.1 In the last year of an Academic Faculty member’s second probationary period, the Department Chair shall recommend to FEC in writing, with a copy to Academic Faculty member, that one of the following decisions be made:

a) that an appointment with tenure be offered to the Academic Faculty member;
b) that no further appointment be offered to the Academic Faculty member; or
c) that the second probationary period be extended by one year (but only if such an extension had not been approved for an earlier year by FEC or GAC).

A5.04.2 After considering the Department Chair’s recommendations, FEC shall make one of the following decisions:

a) that an appointment with tenure be offered to the Academic Faculty member;
b) that no further appointment be offered to the Academic Faculty member; or
c) that the second probationary period be extended by one year (but only if such an extension had not been approved for an earlier year by FEC or GAC).

Special recommendations for tenure

A5.05.1 In extraordinary cases, in years other than the last year of a probationary period, a Department Chair may recommend to FEC in writing, with a copy to the Academic Faculty member, that an Academic Faculty member be offered an appointment with tenure. In such a case, FEC shall make one of the following decisions:

a) that the present probationary period continue; or
b) that the Academic Faculty member be offered an appointment with tenure; and, in either case, the decision shall be final and binding.

Article A6: Faculty Evaluation

A6.03.3 Faculty members shall be evaluated annually against the following standards of performance.

a) The evaluation of performance shall ensure that, except where an Academic Faculty member has a reduced teaching assignment, performance as a teacher shall be of a major importance in the review;
b) Performance expectations shall increase as an Academic Faculty member moves through the ranks;
c) For the award of tenure, the Academic Faculty member must demonstrate a strong record of achievement in teaching and research, and must demonstrate on the basis of performance while on probation that he/she is they are capable of contributing effectively as an Academic Faculty member in all areas of responsibility; and
d) For promotion to the rank of Professor, the Academic Faculty member must demonstrate a strong record of achievement in teaching, research, and service, including excellence in teaching and/or research, and/or, in rare circumstances, a record of exceptional service.

A6.03.4 Evaluation of teaching shall be multi-faceted and, in particular, shall not be based primarily on any one method of evaluation. The standards for evaluation of teaching performance shall be broadly based, including course content, course design and performance in the classroom. Such evaluation may take into account information such as statistical summaries of responses to student questionnaires, comprehensive reviews of student commentary, reviews by peers, reviews by administrative officials, and reviews of teaching dossiers and other materials provided by the Academic Faculty member, reviews by peers and administrative officials, comprehensive reviews of student commentary, and the frequency distribution of responses to student questionnaires.

A6.03.4.2 In evaluating the teaching performance of Academic Faculty members, Department Chairs and FEC shall consider that:

i. Students’ questionnaire ratings of instruction are influenced by numerous factors, including race, gender, accent, age, physical attractiveness, and course characteristics; and

ii. Since there is no requirement for students to complete online questionnaires, the responses may not validly reflect the opinion(s) of an entire class, but only the opinion(s) of those motivated to respond; and therefore,

iii. student questionnaires are insufficient in measuring teaching performance, necessitating a multi-faceted approach to evaluation.

a) the documentation required to support the application;

b) the requirements for references to support the application;

This interpretation has been approved under the provisions of Article 28 of the 1995 APO Agreement.

Interpretation

1. Each APO position in the Departments merged shall be eliminated under Article F10.01(a) (“that the position is no longer required”).

2. The procedures of Articles F10.02 F10.02.1 - F10.02.5 shall apply and all laid off APO members shall be entitled to notice and severance pay and any other entitlements in F10.04.1 – F10.05.

3. If a new APO position is to be established in the newly merged Department, the incumbent APO Members in the Departments merged shall automatically be invited to apply as candidates for appointment to the new position and the appropriate Vice-President shall so advise them, in writing.

4. The competition for the new position will initially be restricted to APO Members from the Departments merged.

5. If there are no qualified candidates from the group under paragraph 4, above, the competition will be opened to other APO Members on campus and to outsiders.

6. Selection of the candidate will be in accordance with normal selection procedures.

7. APO Members who decline the invitation to apply or who are unsuccessful candidates who were from the Departments merged will be granted notice and severance pay and other entitlements under Article F10.04 F10.04.1 – F10.05.

8. Notwithstanding the foregoing, an APO from the Departments merged may not wish to be considered in the application of these procedures and, rather, be granted the severance associated with termination. In such an event, the APO may so apply to the appropriate Vice-President. The Vice-President shall consult with the Association and with appropriate administrative officers and may either

   a) approve the request, thereby authorizing the payment of a severance allowance whether or not other APO Members are eligible for the competition (which will be the normal case) or

   b) deny the request where the needs of the University can best be met, in the opinion of the Vice-President, by having the APO Member remain as a
SCHEDULE G - TEMPORARY LIBRARIAN, ADMINISTRATIVE AND PROFESSIONAL STAFF OFFICER (TLAPS) (TLAPO)

Conversion

G2.03.1 A TLAPS TLAPO Member who has served 6 continuous years of full-time employment whether in a rolling term or in successive term appointments shall have their current appointment converted to a (continuing) APO appointment, performing the same duties. A decision of the Supervisor may be appealed to the appropriate Vice President whose decision shall be final and binding.

G2.03.2 The application of Article G2.03.1 shall not require the TLAPS TLAPO Member to serve any probationary period if when their TLAPS TLAPO Member appointment is converted to a continuing APO appointment.

Commented [MS29]: Related to layoff procedure resulting from reorganization.

Commented [MS30]: Modifies process for conversion of temporary appointment to continuing appointment.
