CSAR, The Centre for the Studies of Asphyxia and Resuscitation, would like to welcome you back in Edmonton, Canada for the 2nd Neonatal Transition Symposium, which will be held from 17-19 of September 2015. Preparations have started and we are very pleased to welcome our scientific advisory board to support the organization committee.

The 2nd Neonatal Transition Symposium will feature Global Health, Neonatal Simulation, Neonatal Transition, and discussions about the upcoming 2015 Resuscitation guidelines. In addition, we will offer several Hands-on workshops.

The 2nd Neonatal Transition Symposium will kick off with Hands-on workshops (e.g. Helping Babies Breathe course, Simulation sessions, Ethics discussions at the brink of viability, Mindfulness during Resuscitation).

During the 2nd Neonatal Transition Symposium we would like to highlight current initiatives in Neonatal Global Health along with their challenges and areas of future collaborations and targets. Confirmed speakers include Jeffrey Perlman, Susan Niermeyer, Khalid Aziz and Willibald Zeck (United Nations).

The 2nd Neonatal Transition Symposium will focus on current understanding of Neonatal Transition and discuss the future and goals of neonatal simulation. Confirmed speakers include Colin Morley, Gerhard Pichler, Georg Schmölzer, Myra Wyckoff, and Stuart Hooper (invited). The program of the 2nd Neonatal Transition Symposium will also feature discussions about the release of the upcoming resuscitation guidelines and will end with our Annual NICU Fun Run over 2K or 5K.

When and Where
University of Alberta, Edmonton, 17 to 19 September 2015

Additional features of the 2nd Neonatal Transition Symposium
* Scientific presentations of submitted abstracts, live tweets, post symposium webinars.

Abstract submission and Registration will open early 2015

Scientific Advisory Board: M. Wyckhoff, USA; M. Seshia, Canada; P. Davis, Australia; P. McNamara, Canada; C. Roehr, U.K.; G. Pichler, Austria

Organization committee: GM Schmölzer, K Aziz, M O'Reilly, P-Y Cheung

Neonatal Transition Symposium Secretariat:
Melissa Byblow,
Royal Alexandra Hospital, Edmonton, Canada
Phone: (+1) 780 735 5179, Email: melissa.Byblow@albertahealthservices.ca