Course Description, Objectives and Expected Learning Outcomes:
The aim of this course is to introduce students to French Cinema as a cultural industry, an artistic practice, and a means of social representation through the study and analysis of a diversified corpus of French films. A special emphasis will be placed on the history of French cinema, and its most significant trends (e.g., Poetic realism, and Nouvelle Vague), and celebrated film makers (e.g., Méliès, Godard, Demy, and Pialat). Students will also be introduced to basic film studies concepts and apply them to movies discussed in class.
At the end of this course students are expected (1) to display a comprehensive knowledge of French cinema from the end of 19th century to the present day; (2) to identify most significant French cinematic traditions and filmmakers’ styles based on their characteristic features; (3) to apply appropriate concepts to analyze cinematic aspects, such as editing, framing, and camera moves; (4) to produce informed film criticisms and reviews; and (5) to improve their written and oral proficiency in French.

Course Format: The objectives of the course will be learned through a combination of asynchronous and synchronous teaching. Students will have access to detailed course notes along with PPT presentations, and complete activities to test their knowledge of topics and concepts covered. It is recommended that students work in teams during the semester to maintain their motivation. Opportunities to foster peer-to-peer interactions will be encouraged through Flipgrid and other similar apps. While synchronous teaching will be kept to a minimum to accommodate students’ privacy, students will have the opportunity to interact with the instructor via chat or video conference (e.g., GoogleMeet and Zoom) during class time to ask questions.

Explanatory Notes on Assignments:

In-class assignments: Throughout the semester, students will complete activity sheets (“feuilles d'activités”) for each section of the course and submit them at the end of the class on Moodle. 3 of those activity sheets will be graded.

Film review & clip analysis: The film review and clip analysis should be at least 500 words and 350 words long respectively. They require students to apply film studies concepts and writing techniques presented in class. Students should write their review and analysis on the same movie (to be chosen in the list of movies for the presentation), and submit both assignments on the same Word file.

Essay: The essay should be at least 1500 words long and compare two movies from both a content and cinematic perspective. Students have also the possibility to compare any two movies they pick up from the list on a topic that interests them. Students can write their essay on the films they reviewed and/or presented.

Presentation: The presentation is done in teams of two students (unless exception is granted). Each students will do a 15 minutes presentation on a particular aspect of the movie and answer questions from their peers and the instructor. Various presentation formats are available (e.g., PPT, Zoom) depending on the students’ technical skills. Students cannot present on the same movie they reviewed.

Participation: Participation includes several components: 1) completing activity sheets (“feuilles d’activités”) and submitting them in due time; 2) participating in class activity be they synchronous or asynchronous; 3) completing homework; 4) asking questions to the instructor and presenters. Students will have the opportunity to boost their participation grade by attending events in the local francophone community and providing evidence to the instructor.

Required Notes:
Policy about course outlines can be found in the Evaluation Procedures and Grading System of the University Calendar.

Student Responsibilities:

Academic Integrity:
The University of Alberta is committed to the highest standards of academic integrity and honesty. Students are expected to be familiar with these standards regarding academic honesty and to uphold the policies of the University in this respect. Students are particularly urged to familiarize themselves with the provisions of the Code of Student Behaviour and avoid any behaviour that could potentially result in suspicions of cheating, plagiarism, misrepresentation of facts and/or participation in an offence. Academic dishonesty is a serious offence and can result in suspension or expulsion from the University.

All students should consult the Academic Integrity website. If you have any questions, ask your instructor.

An instructor or coordinator who is convinced that a student has handed in work that he or she could not possibly reproduce without outside assistance is obliged, out of consideration of fairness to other students, to report the case to the Associate Dean of the Faculty. See the Academic Discipline Process.

Language and Translation Courses:
Students involved in language courses and translation courses should be aware that the use of on-line translation to complete assignments constitutes a form of cheating as the student’s own understanding and work is therefore not reflected. Also, students in language courses should be aware that, while seeking the advice of native or expert speakers is often helpful, excessive editorial and creative help in assignments is considered a form of cheating that violates the Code of Student Behaviour.

Learning and Working Environment:
The Faculty of Arts is committed to ensuring all students, faculty and staff are able to work and study in an environment that is safe and free from discrimination and harassment. It does not tolerate behaviour that undermines that environment. The Department urges anyone who feels that this policy is being violated to:
- Discuss the matter with the person whose behaviour is causing concern; or
- If that discussion is unsatisfactory, or there is concern that direct discussion is inappropriate or threatening, discuss it with the Chair of the Department. For additional advice or assistance regarding this policy you may contact the Office of the Student Ombuds. Information about the University of Alberta Discrimination and Harassment Policy and Procedures is described in UAPPOL.

Sexual Violence Policy:
It is the policy of the University of Alberta that sexual violence committed by any member of the University community is prohibited and constitutes misconduct. Resources and more information can be found at https://www.ualberta.ca/campus-life/sexual-violence

Territorial Statement:
“The University of Alberta acknowledges that we are located on Treaty 6 territory, and respects the histories, languages, and cultures of the First Nations, Métis, Inuit, and all First Peoples of Canada, whose presence continues to enrich our vibrant community.” (from the beginning of the Calendar).

Recording of Lectures:
Audio or video recording, digital or otherwise, of lectures, labs, seminars or any other teaching environment by students is allowed only with the prior written consent of the instructor or as a part of an approved accommodation plan. Student or instructor content, digital or otherwise, created and/or used within the context of the course is to be used solely for personal study, and is not to be used or distributed for any other purpose without prior written consent from the content author(s).

Attendance, Absences, and Missed Grade Components:
Regular attendance is essential for optimal performance in any course. In cases of potentially excusable absences due to illness or domestic affliction, notify your instructor by e-mail within two days. Regarding absences that may be excusable and procedures for addressing course components missed as a result, consult sections Attendance and Examinations of the University Calendar. Be aware that unexcused absences will result in partial or total loss of the grade for the “attendance and participation” component(s) of a course, as well as for any assignments that are not handed-in or completed as a result.

Deferral of term work is a privilege and not a right; there is no guarantee that a deferral will be granted. Misrepresentation of facts to gain a deferral is a serious breach of the Code of Student Behaviour.

In this course, participation is an essential component and will be factored 10% of the overall grade. Participation includes completing and posting in due time activity sheets (“feuilles d’activités”) and taking part in class online activities (e.g., chat and discussion forum). Students who fail to complete activity sheet in due time will lose 3% of their participation grade unless they provide a legitimate excuse. Students have the opportunity to increase their grade by attending a maximum of 2 community events from the list posted on the “Activités dans la communauté 2020-2021” Moodle website.
Students can also attend events listed on the Francopass web application. They will receive a 3% bonus on their participation grade for each event upon showing evidence of attendance (e.g., selfie, receipt, and stamp on their “passeport”, Francopass).

Policy for Late Assignments:
Students who consult in advance with the instructor regarding contingencies preventing the timely completion of an assignment may, at the discretion of the instructor, be granted an extension just one time throughout the course with no penalty. Otherwise, all assignments should be handed in on the stated deadline. Students who submit assignments late with no acceptable excuse will lose 10% of the assignment's value for each day following the deadline. Late excuses will not be accepted.

Grading:
Assessment of the individual course components may be in the form of numerical marks or letter grades. The final letter grade will be based on "a combination of absolute achievement and relative performance in a class" (University Calendar, Evaluation Procedures and Grading System). The University Grading Procedure mandates that "a student’s level of achievement of the goals/outcomes of a course, their grade, and the descriptor of that grade must be aligned" (https://policiesonline.ualberta.ca/). The following guidelines have been adopted by the Department of Modern Languages and Cultural Studies:
