Course Description and Objectives:

The general purpose of this course is to provide students with a global perspective of the most important structures of French in a communicative context and to introduce linguistic tools that will allow students to further their understanding of the French language and culture in an autonomous manner at an advanced level. To this end, students will develop their oral and written communicative competence in informal and formal contexts on topics related to cultural heritage, bilingualism, immigration, globalisation and the environment. The review and expansion of their grammatical, lexical and cultural knowledge will take place in relation to the discussed topics. At the end of the course, students are expected to be able to narrate and describe complex situations, as well as to present a simple argumentation using a variety of structures. Their occasional language errors should not distract their interlocutors/readers.

All sections of FREN 298 follow the same grammar program, but the topics discussed and their approach may vary from one section to the other.

Required Texts:

- Controverses (Third édition). Cengage Learning, 2016. (Chapters 6, 7 and 8 will be covered.)
Each individual e-chapter can be purchased through NelsonBrain.com

- La nouvelle grammaire en tableaux (Québec Amérique)

Grade Distribution (see “Explanatory Notes”):

Class Component:	75%
Attendance and class participation	10%
Quizzes and/or assignments	5%
Composition – thematically linked to textbook materials (February 6)	10%
CSL reflective activities	50%
Online reflective journal (weekly)	10%
Reading assignment (March 6)	10%
Presentation of CSL project (March/April)	10%
Final essay (April 12)	20%
Lab Component:	25%
Lab participation & Attendance	5%
Film discussions	5%
Oral Presentation (28 February - 16 March; during labs)	5%
Final oral exam (during labs; 4 April - 11 April)	10%

Explanatory Notes:

Participation and attendance: Attendance and participation will be assessed based on the use of French during classroom activities, preparedness, and active participation in class. The marking rubrics for participation will be provided electronically. Note that the instructor expects students to have read the relevant materials before coming to class.

Assignments: These may include but are not limited to writing assignments, reading comprehension from the textbook, grammar and vocabulary practice exercises, and oral presentations. The marking rubrics, when relevant, will be provided electronically.

Reading Assignment: Reading to be linked to classroom, textbook and/or community topics, where students are to build vocabulary, research, critically analyze, and answer several short questions expanding on the reading (650-850 words).

Composition: The composition will be written outside of class time, but students will be provided with in-class time to go over their composition with a partner to improve it in for form and content (500-600 words).

Final essay: At the end of the class, you will be expected to turn in as final assignment an essay (900-1000 words) in which you will present a thesis summing up your CSL experience throughout the semester.

Online reflective journal: Students are required to contribute to a private online class blog/journal (a total of 8 entries). The topics will be posted weekly and students have to answer the discussion question based on their most recent community experience. Given that there is a mandatory 20-hour community-service learning component in this class, 1 percentage point per hour missed will be deducted from the 10% online reflective journal grade.

Oral examination: Students will be given a choice of topics to develop into an oral presentation that will be prepared outside of class and presented to the lab assistant. The marking rubrics will be provided electronically.

Required Notes:

“Policy about course outlines can be found in Section 23.4(2) of the University Calendar.”

Academic Integrity:

“The University of Alberta is committed to the highest standards of academic integrity and honesty. Students are expected to be familiar with these standards regarding academic honesty and to uphold the policies of the University in this respect. Students are particularly urged to familiarize themselves with the provisions of the Code of Student Behaviour (online at <http://www.governance.ualberta.ca/en/CodesofConductandResidenceCommunityStandards/CodeofStudentBehaviour.aspx>) and avoid any behaviour which could potentially result in suspicions of cheating, plagiarism, misrepresentation of facts and/or participation in an offence. Academic dishonesty is a serious offence and can result in suspension or expulsion from the University.”

Learning and Working Environment:

The Faculty of Arts is committed to ensuring all students; faculty and staff are able to study and work in an environment safe and free of discrimination and harassment. It does not tolerate behaviour that undermines that environment. The Department urges anyone who feels this policy has been or is being violated to:

- Discuss the matter with the person whose behaviour is causing concern; or
- If that discussion is unsatisfactory, or there is concern that direct discussion is inappropriate or threatening, discuss it first with your language instructor, and if still unresolved, the French language program coordinator and, lastly, the Chair of the Department.

For additional advice or assistance regarding this policy you may contact the Office of the Student Ombuds. Information about the University of Alberta Discrimination and Harassment Policy and Procedures is described in UAPPOL.

Academic Honesty:

All students should consult the information provided by the Office of Judicial Affairs regarding avoiding cheating and plagiarism in particular and academic dishonesty in general (see the Academic Integrity Undergraduate Handbook and Information for Students). If in doubt about what is permitted in this class, ask the instructor.

Students involved in language courses and translation courses should be aware that online “translation engines” produce very dubious and unreliable “translations”. Students in languages courses should be aware that, while seeking the advice of native or expert speakers is often helpful, excessive editorial and creative help in assignments is considered a form of “cheating” that violates the code of student conduct with dire consequences.

An instructor or coordinator who is convinced that a student has handed in work that he or she could not possibly reproduce without outside assistance is obliged, out of consideration of fairness to other students, to report the case to the Associate Dean of the Faculty. See the Academic Discipline Process.

Recording of Lectures:

Audio or video recording of lectures, labs, seminars or any other teaching environment by students is allowed only with the prior written consent of the content author(s) or as a part of an approved accommodation plan. Recorded material is to be used solely for personal study, and is not to be used or distributed for any other purpose without prior written consent from the content author(s).

Attendance, Absences, and Missed Grade Components:

Regular daily attendance is essential for optimal performance in any course. In cases of potentially excusable absences due to illness or domestic affliction, notify your instructor by e-mail within two days. Regarding absences that may be excusable and procedures for addressing course components missed as a result, consult sections Attendance and Examinations of the University Calendar. Be aware that unexcused absences will result in partial or total loss of the grade for the “attendance and participation” component(s) of a course, as well as for any assignments that are not handed-in or completed as a result.

In this course: Students are allowed to miss three sessions of the lecture without penalty regardless of the reason for their absence (excusable or not), after which two percentage points per absence will be deducted from the attendance and participation grade. Hence it is recommended not to miss a session unless absolutely necessary. (See Lab Work for the lab attendance policy.)

Missed grade components due to absences may be taken at another time if they are due to illness or domestic affliction. Instructors can no longer request a doctor’s note for absences due to illness, but they may request other adequate documentation at their discretion such as a form from the student’s Faculty or a statutory declaration. In other cases, including domestic affliction or religious conviction, adequate documentation must be provided to substantiate the reason for an absence.

The student must notify their instructor by e-mail within two days following the scheduled date of the term work missed or as soon as the student is able to arrange for an extension or make-up test / assignment. Instructors are not required to grant make-up assignments / tests or extensions for unacceptable reasons that include, but are not limited to, personal events such as vacations, weddings, or travel arrangements. When the student misses some term work without an acceptable excuse, a final grade will be computed using a raw score of zero for the term work missed.

Policy for Late Assignments:

In this course, assignments are not accepted late unless an excusable reason is documented (see section on attendance and missed grade components). Students who consult in advance with an instructor regarding contingencies preventing the timely completion of an assignment may, at the discretion of the instructor, be granted an extension.

When any other evaluation has been scheduled, any student who misses class on this day and does not have an excusable reason for the absence will get a zero, even though s/he might have been absent the day it was announced as s/he has the responsibility to enquire about what has been missed.

Student Accessibility Services:

If you have special needs that could affect your performance in this class, please inform your instructor during the first week of the term so that appropriate arrangements can be made. If you are not already registered with Student Accessibility Services, contact their office immediately (1-80 SUB; Email sasrec@ualberta.ca; Email; phone 780-492-3381).

Grading:

Assessment of the individual course components may be in the form of numerical marks or letter grades. The final letter grade will be based on "a combination of absolute achievement and relative performance in a class" (University Calendar, Evaluation Procedures and Grading System). The University Grading Procedure mandates that "a student's level of achievement of the goals/outcomes of a course, their grade, and the descriptor of that grade must be aligned" (<https://policiesonline.ualberta.ca/>). The following guidelines have been adopted by the Department of Modern Languages and Cultural Studies:

“MLCS Undergraduate Grading Scale”

Descriptor	Letter Grade	Grade Point Value	%
Excellent. A+, A or A- is earned by work which is superior in content and form and demonstrates an exceptional grasp of the subject matter. The grade of A+ designates work that far exceeds course expectations. Grades in the A range are normally achieved by a small number of students.	A+	4.0	97-100
	A	4.0	93-96
	A-	3.7	90-92
Good. B+, B or B- is earned by work that demonstrates a thorough comprehension of the course material and a good command of relevant skills. Grades in the B range are normally achieved by the largest number of students.	B+	3.3	87-89
	B	3.0	83-86
	B-	2.7	80-82
Satisfactory. C+, C or C- is earned by work that demonstrates an adequate grasp of the course material and relevant skills. Grades in the C range designate work that has met the basic requirements of the course.	C+	2.3	77-79
	C	2.0	73-76
	C-	1.7	70-72
Poor/Minimal Pass. D+ or D is earned by work that demonstrates minimal familiarity with the course material. Grades in the D range generally indicate insufficient preparation for subsequent courses in the subject matter.	D+	1.3	65-69
	D	1.0	60-64
Failure.	F	0.0	0-59

Note : It is our opinion that if a student does not receive a minimum of B- in this course, they should strongly consider improving their language skills (ie : tutoring, conversation groups, exchange programs, volunteering, J'Explore www.jexplore.ca, etc.) before continuing to the next level of our language program.

Language of Instruction and Communication:

The language of instruction in the classroom is French. It is expected that all communication be carried out in the target language, inside and outside the classroom. This pertains to daily class time conversation with fellow students, instructor, and email. These aspects can affect participation marks.

Structure of the class:

In this class students will develop their skills in composition, expression and comprehension (written and oral). They will study vocabulary relating to the chapter themes and review certain grammatical points. There is also an emphasis on oral practice in the form of such activities as discussions and debates. Students will work with a variety of authentic materials such as films, audio recordings and written texts.

In order to optimize the time spent in class and to facilitate oral production in the target language, classes are divided as follows, depending on the section schedule on Bear Tracks:

- Lecture: 3 h/week (Monday/Wednesday/Friday) with the Principal Instructor.
- Lab: 1 h/week (Tuesday or Thursday) with the Lab Assistant.

or

- Lecture: 3 h/week (Tuesday/Thursday) with the Principal Instructor.
- Lab: 1 h/week (Monday or Wednesday) with the Lab Assistant.

Film Schedule: (Instructions are posted on the wall in the back room of the computer lab in Arts 109.) There are 2 films to watch on students’ own time. Discussions take place in the Lab portion of the course.

Films	Dates available	Class discussion
Film 1 : TBA	TBA	TBA*
Film 2 : TBA	TBA	TBA*

*on your scheduled lab day

CSL Reflective Activities:

In this class, you will be required to volunteer 20 hours with a non-profit organization serving the local French community. This experience is designed to help you gain a first-hand cultural experience serving the Francophone community of Edmonton, learn about issues that are important for Francophones in Alberta, and build on your oral and written French skills. In class and through your assignments, your instructor will help you make links between your experience and the classroom as well as discuss a variety of topics related to interpersonal communication and social issues. For example, in your work with the community, you may experience culture shock, challenges in communicating effectively with native speakers, discovery of realities that you did not know exist, success in helping others, etc. In order to reflect on your experience and make these links, you will be asked to share weekly journal entries with your peers and react to what they are experiencing. In addition, readings and class discussions that will follow will help you gain a better understanding of some social issues that you may experience through CSL (e.g., uni/bilingualism in Canada, minority rights, responsible citizenship, etc.). At the end of the class, you will be expected to turn in as final assignment an essay (900-1000 words) in which you will present a thesis summing up your experience.

Lab Work:

The role of the French Assistants is to help improve oral skills (comprehension and production) through a variety of activities around different material (audios, texts, videos, etc). The focus will be mostly on the development of oral fluency, with some focus on the acquisition of vocabulary as well as pronunciation. In order to optimize the time spent in class and to facilitate oral production in the target language, classes are divided in two groups. The Assistants also conduct the Final Oral Exam (10%) at the end of term.

Active participation in the labs is an essential component of the class; therefore, students forfeit 1 point of the points attributed to ‘Lab participation’ for each unexcused absence.

Learning Resources:

- Help with writing: Bon patron - <http://bonpatron.com/>
- Help with verb conjugation: <http://www.pomme.ualberta.ca/pomme/>
- Supplementary readings, CDs, videos and the Internet will be used in class and for homework.
