

Become a Pharmacy Preceptor

Preceptors are the heart of our pharmacy program. Your contributions advance the education of University of Alberta students and ensure they become professionals.

The Faculty of Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences provides many tools, resources, training and benefits to help prepare you for being a preceptor and support your role.

CORE ELMS

An online experiential learning management system that provides communication, accountability and tools for the student, preceptor and faculty. It houses all site information, student information, forms and resources. It allows for correspondence between the faculty, preceptors and students, and all performance assessments are administered through this system.
