

J. GORDIN KAPLAN AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE IN RESEARCH

Terms of reference and application process

The University of Alberta's most prestigious research award is named for the University's first Vice-President (Research). Two awards are presented annually to recognize outstanding work in distinct fields of research:

1. excellence in general area of humanities, social sciences, law, education and fine arts and
2. excellence in the sciences, health sciences, or engineering.

The award recognizes and honours faculty members:

- Whose research contributions, and impact (both academic and knowledge mobilization/translation), add significantly to our knowledge base.
- Whose contributions to Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion set an example for other University Faculty, students, and the community-at-large
- Who are recognized nationally and internationally for their scholarly accomplishments.
- Who set a standard of excellence for other University of Alberta faculty, graduate and undergraduate students and the community-at-large, as they contribute to our institution's research goals

Selection Process

The Office of the Vice President (Research and Innovation) [OVPRI] will review the candidate pool. If the pool is not deemed to represent the diversity of the research community at the University of Alberta, the OVPRI may choose to seek additional nominations of excellent candidates from equity-deserving groups.

Each award category is adjudicated by a committee chaired by the Vice-President (Research and Innovation) or delegate. The committees include one or more Associate Vice-Presidents (Research) and members from the University's research community who are suitably representative of the diversity that exists across the institution and who conduct research in the designated award category.

Teaching will not be part of the evaluation except for graduate teaching and supervision relevant to the nominee's research.
