REGISTRATION FOR BIOL 107. This course tends to fill up very quickly in the Fall term. Keep in mind that if it does, you can schedule it in the Winter term and take BIOL 108 in the Fall term instead. BIOL 107 is not a pre-requisite for BIOL 108.

LABS. Labs will begin later in the semester, usually 1-2 weeks after classes begin. Check your course syllabus or speak with your Professor to know when your labs begin. Use this time wisely to solidify your study habits and keep up with your assignments. Things will get much busier once your labs begin. Go to a Studying and Reading Workshop hosted by the Academic Success Centre for strategies on time management.

SEMINARS. Seminars will be scheduled at a later date, but don’t worry; they won’t conflict with your schedule. More information will follow once you start attending your lecture.
