Father Terry To Leave SJC in June

Archbishop Richard Smith of Edmonton has issued a letter announcing that Fr. Terry Kersch, the President of SJC, will be stepping down from that role on June 30, 2020.

For the full text of the letter, click here. We wish Fr. Terry all the best in his future endeavours.

SJC at the U of A Open House

We had a great time at the annual U of A Open House on Sat. Oct. 19th. Our team of SJC residents, faculty and staff talked to lots of prospective students, many of whom took a tour of our residences and enjoyed a meal in our dining hall. Here we see profs Matt Hoven and Lorne Zelyck discussing some deep philosophical or theological point (or so it seems).

Feeling Disconnected?

Why not join the group who will read through and discuss Jean Vanier's "Becoming Human," an exploration of forming connections with others on a personal and a global level. Read more here.

Help Dealing with the Stress

Did you know that U of A students can visit a Registered Provisional Psychologist for FREE at St. Joseph's College on Tuesdays, 9:00 am - 12:00 noon? Our two campus ministers are also available if you need a listening ear. To schedule appointments with the psychologist or campus ministers, email:

sjccm@ualberta.ca

Fall Retreat Coming Up

Join SJC Campus Ministry and the Catholic Students' Association for a two-day retreat November 9th and 10th. This is the perfect opportunity to grow as a community and learn more about your faith. The retreat will include talks on prayer and the Holy Spirit. For more information and to RSVP, Click here!

Books from SJC Profs

Professors at SJC have been busy writing lately. Three books have either just appeared or will be appearing shortly: Dr. Shawn Flynn's "A Story of YHWH", Dr. Lorne Zelyck's "The Egerton Gospel" and "The Human Person", co-written by Dr. Matt Kostelecky.
